DEFENSE OFFERS ALIBI TESTIMONY AT HERRIN TRIAL

Witness Says None of Five Defendants Was in Group Escorting Prisoners to the Cemetery.

SIMILAR STORY IS TOLD BY WOMEN

Captives "Didn't Look Like Men," Mrs. Bertha Meadows Testifies—Spectators Rebuked for Laughter.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MARION, Ill., Jan. 5.—The defense in the Herrin massacre trial after devoting more than five days to "justification" testimony, began today the presentation of alibi proof. It took the form, as promised by A. W. Kerr, chief counsel for the defense, in his opening statement, that a hundred union miners would testify that they saw the mob and did not see the defendants.

James Meadows, examined by Attorney William Seiber of the defense, testified that he knew all five of the defendants. He stood in front of his home on Thirteenth street in Herrin on June 22 and saw the six men brought by who were later shot at the Herrin cemetery. The prisoners, he said, were marching two abreast, in charge of six or eight men. He was in a good position to see them and did not recognize either of the defendants or Percy Hall, who was named by prosecution witnesses as having been there. Cross-examined, he said there was a crowd of 300 to 500 men and he could not see the defendants in that crowd. He did not see any of the defendants.

He repeated the error again when he later said that "the State of Missouri has engaged an enabling act to back up its constitutional prohibition of the sale, manufacture or transportation of intoxicating liquors."

WIFE IN CROWD

Mrs. Bertha Meadows, daughter-in-law of Meadows, thought there were 10 or 15 in charge of the prisoners. Women and children were following. If any of the defendants were there she did not see them. She asked if she saw anybody walk along in front with guns. "I did not see any guns," she said with positiveness. "But I saw the scabs." She said she was well acquainted around here and all the members of the mob were strangers to her.

"Didn't Look Like Men."

"The scabs," she said, "didn't look like men."

There was laughter in the courtroom which was sharply rebuked by Judge Harwell, who ordered the juror to obtain the names of any who laughed again. In explanation Mrs. Meadows said they were "so nervous." She added that she was so nervous that she could hardly tell whether they were men or not, but she knew they were human.

Mrs. Minnie Vaughan said there were 800 to 900 in the crowd following the six prisoners, of whom about 500 were men. There was a crowd of 10 to 15 men who seemed to be in charge of the prisoners. There had revolvers. None of the defendants was in the crowd, she said. She could not tell whether there were among the 600. She did not recognize anybody in the crowd. The members of the escort were strangers.

Other Women Testify

Mrs. Nellie Kelleher estimated he crowd at 700 or 800. She did not see any weapons. She had never seen the members of the escort before or since. She denied that Percy Hall was walking ahead of the captives, waving a weapon. She said there were about 400 men in the crowd.

Mrs. Mollie Green knew Joe Carls, one of the defendants. She did not see him or any one else whom she recognized in the crowd. She saw no weapons.

Testimony that workmen were kept at the Lester strip mine by threats was admitted today over the objections of the prosecution. John C. Crompton, a witness, testified that he talked on June 21 to five men who had run away from the mine and they told him that Superintendent McDowell warned them that if they tried to come away he would shoot them or have them shot.

The objection was that the state-

HYDE'S ERROR ON 'DRY CONSTITUTION' PRODUCES SMILES

Governor's Message Spoke of State Constitutional Prohibition Provisions.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 5.—Smiles are numerous in Jefferson City today about Gov. Hyde's declaration in his message to the Legislature yesterday that the Constitution of Missouri prohibits the manufacture and sale of intoxicants. In this the Governor was in error, as the Constitution of this State contains nothing of the kind.

Hyde's sweeping statement contained in an arraignment of flagrant violation of liquor laws, was that: "Both the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Missouri contain absolute prohibition of the sale, manufacture or transportation of intoxicating liquors."

He repeated the error again when he later said that "the State of Missouri has engaged an enabling act to back up its constitutional prohibition of the sale, manufacture or transportation of intoxicating liquors."

NEGRO VILLAGE IN FLORIDA BURNED BY WHITE MOB

Two White Men, Two Negroes and Two Negresses Dead After Attack on Barricaded Hut.

By the Associated Press.

OTTER CREEK, Fla., Jan. 5.—Two white men, two negroes and two negresses are known to be dead, while it is believed there are many other casualties as a result of a race trouble last night and early this morning at Rosewood, 12 miles from here. With the exception of three buildings, the little village was burned by a mob shortly after daybreak, according to available reports. One of the negro women being shot and killed during the burning. A party of citizens of Sumner went to Rosewood late last night to investigate reports that two negroes sought in connection with an attack upon a young white woman at Sumner Monday were concealed in a house there. Upon the approach of the party, the negroes, without warning, opened fire, killing one of the negroes and wounding four, one of them probably fatally.

21 Armed Negroes in House.

It later developed that 21 heavily armed negroes were in the house and citizens immediately established a cordon around it and opened fire with every conceivable kind of firearm.

At 4 o'clock this morning, according to information here, the ammunition of the attackers became exhausted and the departure of many for fresh supplies gave the besieged negroes an opportunity to escape. Their departure was discovered at daylight.

The vacated house contained the bodies of two negro women and one negro man who had been killed by bullets which penetrated the walls or entered the place through windows.

Blood stains indicated that several of those who escaped were wounded. Immediately afterward, according to word received from the scene, the mob began firing the buildings in the village. Every structure, except the grocery store, the residence of the grocer and the residence of another white man, was destroyed. While the village was in flames, it is said members of the mob fired upon negroes fleeing from their homes. The result was not known here.

About 20 Families in Village.

About 20 families resided in Rosewood, the majority of them negroes. The known dead are:

Polly Wilkinson of Sumner, 45 years old, merchant.

Henry Andrews, 42, of Otter Creek, superintendent of a lumber company.

Sylvester Carrier, 42, negro.

The injured white men are:

Manning Hudson, scalp wound.

M. L. Sturdivant, shot through arm.

Adam, Otter Creek, shot through neck.

The negro house was burned to the ground shortly before daylight. Sheriff Walker ordered all the negro mill workers at Sumner to remain in their homes.

Two White Men Killed.

Wilkinson and Andrews were shot to death when they attempted to enter the negro house late last night in search of Sylvester Carrier. Negroes barricaded in the place at that time opened fire on the white men and the bodies of Wilkinson and Andrews lay where they fell through out the night.

The dead negro is a brother of the man in jail in connection with the assault upon a young white woman several days ago. Jesse Hunter, an escaped negro convict, who is believed to have committed the crime, is still at large.

Sheriff Ramey and his deputies of Alachua County returned to Gainesville this morning.

Mingo Williams, a negro, 50 years old, was found dead on the highway about a mile north of Bronson shortly after noon today. He had been dead but a short time.

NEVER CURED ANYBODY OF AILMENT, COUE SAYS

Asserts Combating Vicious Habits Is One of Primary Utilities of Method.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Emile Coue, a smiling, active little man with white hair and beard and sparkling blue eyes, once an obscure provincial pharmacist, who toyed with the theories of hypnosis in his tiny shop in Nancy, arrived in America yesterday on the Majestic, an internationally famous figure, the apostle of the doctrine of self-mastery through conscious autosuggestion.

The little pharmacist whose formula, "Day by day, in every way, I am getting better and better," has been repeated by disciples all over the world, hastened to announce that he did not want it believed that he claimed to be able to effect cures of diseases. "I have never cured anybody of any ailment in my life," he said, and I have never made such a claim. If I can succeed here, as I have many times in the past, in helping others so to understand themselves and exercise their minds that they can improve their physical condition and achieve better health and happiness, then I shall have succeeded."

Coue declared that the purpose of his visit was to spread the knowledge and use of his doctrine in the United States. He hoped, he added, soon to establish an authorized clinic in New York. Successful combating of defects of character and of vicious habits, such as drunkenness, M. Coue said, was one of the primary utilities of his method. "My fondest desire," he said, "is to cause the introduction of my program of autosuggestion into the medical schools of the United States. I want to see it introduced into all 'maisons de correction' and prisons. I believe it will help greatly to cure criminal tendencies."

JOINT COAL CONFERENCE ENDS WITHOUT AGREEMENT

Statement Made That Strike April 1 Is Improbable, Despite Failure of Parley.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The joint conference of bituminous coal operators and representatives of the union miners of the nation broke up this afternoon in failure. A telegram informing John Hays Hammond, chairman of President Harding's fact-finding coal commission of the situation was dispatched to Washington.

The telegram was said to have stated that the operators had done everything in their power to reach an agreement with the mine workers' leaders, but that all efforts had ended in disagreement.

Phil H. Penna of Terre Haute, Ind., operator and chairman of the conference, declared, however, that a strike April 1 was improbable.

The failure to find a common ground of negotiating future wage scales left the situation where it was following the settlement of the coal strike last summer in Cleveland. There still is ample time before the expiration of the present working agreement, March 31, to find a solution of the situation, Penna said.

FRUIT COMPANY CASHIER SAID TO BE SHORT $4400

Secretary of N. Longo Firm Reports Finding Bank Balance Less Than Believed to Be by Officers.

EMPLOYEE NOT SEEN SINCE LAST SUNDAY

Wife of Frank Elam at First Said He Was Sick, but Later Declared He Had Disappeared.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The complaint of shortage of $4400 in his accounts as cashier for a fruit company is basis of a police search for Frank Elam, 32 years old, of 2627 Cook avenue, who has not been at work since last Saturday and who has been missing from his home since Sunday.

The complaint was made by Otto Furbinger, secretary and treasurer of the N. Longo Fruit Co., 826 North Third street, who declares that a monthly statement of bank deposits had disclosed that the sum to the company's credit is $4400 less than officers had believed.

The shortage, Furbinger declares, has occurred since Sept. 1. He said that on one day Elam would raise the amount of cash balance in the company's books and the next day would deduct from the bank deposit an amount equal to the amount he had raised the cash balance of the day before.

Elam, he said, had been employed by the company since March 1. He was not a lavish dresser and Furbinger said he had been frequently commended for his industry.

When he did not appear for work Tuesday, Furbinger called Elam's home by telephone and was told that Elam was sick from over-exhaustion of the New Year. Later, he said, Elam's wife called him and asked for a conference, saying that her husband had not been home since Sunday.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—This week's issue of the Spectator will contain an article written by John St. Leo Strachey, its editor, paying tribute to the "service of devotion" by the late Walter Hume Page to the British Empire while he was Ambassador to the Court of St. James. The article suggests that a monument to Page be erected in Westminster Abbey. "We want something that will show the endearment of the man to us in our day of anguish and adversity," Strachey declared.

Strachey is convinced the Dean and the Chapter of the Abbey will readily consent, and suggests the monument should be authorized by a vote of Parliament.

FRANCE TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH BRITAIN ON REPARATIONS MOVES

Premiers Confer Before Bonar Law Starts to London, and British Indicate Nations Will Continue to Work Together on Near East Peace.

PROPERTY SEIZED TO BE HELD IN TRUST

Reparation Body to Take Up German Default on Coal Tomorrow, France Waiting on Decision; British Cabinet to Meet.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Although divided by the German reparations issue, upon which Great Britain and France split at yesterday's allied conference, Premier Poincare and Prime Minister Bonar Law met today for a discussion of other questions on friendly terms.

The French Premier called upon the British Prime Minister and the two were together for a half-hour, discussing the Near-Eastern situation and fields of action other than reparations. In which France and Great Britain may co-operate. The conversation was described as friendly and it was indicated in British circles that the French and British delegates would continue to work together at Lausanne.

The two Prime Ministers had another 20 minutes' talk on the railway station platform just before the midday train left with the British delegation for London on board.

Immediate Action Unlikely.

It has been stated on good authority that no immediate action is contemplated by France. The Government which it thought would act by the Reparation Commission on Germany's default in coal deliveries at least and possibly will defer any action until the next reparations payment in cash is due on Jan. 15.

Meanwhile France, Italy and Belgium will agree on a line of action through exchanges of views.

There is a possibility, it was stated today, that Italy may join the guard on the Rhine with a small force to manifest her accord with France and Belgium.

Bonar Law asked Poincare to keep him informed each day of every move and the French Premier promised he would do so. Bonar Law told his French colleague he had hoped with all his heart that the Entente would not only continue, but be fortified.

When the British Prime Minister made some allusions to what had taken place at the allied conference, M. Poincare remarked that French opinion was entirely wrapped up in the idea of guarantees. In response Bonar Law explained again that British opinion was opposed to any measures which it thought would disturb the economic life of Europe.

Finance Minister de Lasteyrie and other members of the French Cabinet were with their chief at the station, and the leave-taking was commented upon as probably the most cordial between British and French statesmen since the war. There was much laughter among the participants and apparently an utter absence of resentment for the brief meeting up of the reparations conference.

Premiers at Car Window.

Two minutes before the train left Bonar Law stepped into his private car and stood at the window with Poincare below on the platform. The two Premiers, smiling at each other, exchanged a word now and then until the train drew out, when Bonar Law waved his hand and bowed and M. Poincare lifted his hat and called out "Bon voyage."

A special meeting of the reparations commission has been called for tomorrow morning, at the request of the French delegation, for the purpose of considering Germany's default on coal deliveries for the past year. It is considered almost certain that Germany will be formally declared in default on the coal required by the commission for 1922. It is expected the vote will be three to one in favor of the proposition to case Sir John Bradbury, the British delegate, casts his vote. He will be followed by the French.

THREE MEN WOUNDED IN FIGHT WITH ROBBERS AT MAURICE, IA.

Sheriff, Deputy and Doctor Shot, One of Robbers Also Believed to Be Wounded—Purses in Pursuit.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ORANGE CITY, Ia., Jan. 5.—In a fight with robbers at Maurice, Ia., 10 miles west of here, at 2:30 this morning, Sheriff Synhorst of Sioux County, Deputy Sheriff Dykstra, and Dr. Verne Fisher of Orange City, were wounded. The robbers escaped, though one of them is believed to be mortally wounded. Purses are in pursuit of the men and it is reported they are surrounded in some timbered land near Maurice.

Because telephone and telegraph operators were unable to get connection with Maurice, Sheriff Synhorst, his deputy and Dr. Fisher made a hurried drive to the town, believing that a robbery was in progress. They had no more than arrived in the village than they were ordered to halt and the fight began.

The Sheriff's wounds consist of 17 buckshot in his arms and legs. The Deputy Sheriff was wounded in his arms and legs, while Dr. Fisher was wounded in one eye. The robbers attempted escape in their car but it was so badly riddled with bullets that they had gone less than two miles when they were forced to abandon the machine. They stole another from a farmer.

The robbers had ratted a hardware store and obtained arms. They then made an attempt to get into the vault of the Sioux County Savings Bank and had exploded one charge of dynamite when interrupted but had not gained entrance to the vault.

MARRIAGE LICENSE ADDRESSES

Absence of street addresses in lists of marriage licenses published in newspapers since Jan. 1 was explained today by Marriage License Clerk Ruedl, in the presence of William Tamme, recently sworn in as Recorder. Ruedl said that many complaints have been received that false addresses were given on applications for marriage licenses, causing embarrassment to persons living at addresses given. He said that many couples have objected to giving their street address. He stated that there is no law requiring that the street address be given and that the practice is not followed in other large cities. In the future, he said, persons seeking a marriage license will be required to state only the name of the city in which they reside.

Reason Why Your Hair Turns Gray

There are three chemical elements which, in certain proportions, are furnished by the body through the hair follicle or root and which determine the color of your hair. All these three chemicals, iron, sulphur and Magnesia are in everyone's hair, whatever color it may be. If brucetta, iron predominates; if blond, Magnesia, and if brown, sulphur. Black-haired people usually turn gray before blonde or brown-haired people because iron is the element the body first fails to furnish.

An American chemist found that if the lost chemicals could be restored to the hair in right proportions it would return to its former color, in a natural manner. After many years of patient experimentation he at last perfected a compound containing these chemicals together with other ingredients in right proportions and thousands of practical tests have been made which prove that it does restore the original color by feeding and nourishing the follicle with these chemicals. He applied it to his own hair and prevented the hair from falling. All drug and department stores including Kessler Drug Co., Judge & Joseph, Wolff-Wilens Drug Co., Nourishment at $1.25 per bottle. NEGRO CHARGED WITH MURDER

Arrested After Fatal Ambush of Officers in Oklahoma.

By the Associated Press.

SAPULPA, Ok., Jan. 5.—A murder charge was filed here late yesterday by Assistant County Attorney John M. Stanley against James W. Rawls, negro doctor and drug store owner, who was arrested following a shooting in the negro district Monday night when a band of negroes, ambushed in a negro restaurant, killed Patrolman S. E. Brumley and wounded four other officers.

Charges of first degree burglary were filed against Shelby Fingers and Charles Rucker, two white men, charged with looting negro homes following the shooting and taking firearms and other valuables under the guise of special officers. Six high school boys who were arrested with Rucker and Fingers were released late today and will be used as witnesses later. The boys stated that Rucker and Fingers posed as special officers to them and got them to help search the negro residences.

MOBERLY, Mo., Jan. 5.—Five former directors of the defunct Moberly and Merchants' Bank of Moberly were sued for more than $500,000 in connection with the closing of the bank last May 11 with a surplus of approximately $400,000, in two suits filed in Randolph County Circuit Court yesterday in behalf of Frank C. Millspaugh, State Finance Commissioner.

Each of the former directors is charged with negligence and carelessness in the performance of his duties, failure "to use ordinary diligence in acquiring knowledge of and administering the affairs of the bank" and failure "to examine the books, papers and affairs so as to ascertain the value and security of the loans."

Those Named in Suit.
The former directors named are R. A. CUTMAN, J. T. SHEEHAN, T. W. JONES, A. VINCE and E. P. NEWMAN. In the suits they are held liable singly or collectively. Jones is general superintendent of the Wabash Railroad at St. Louis, while the other directors reside in this vicinity.

J. W. BUNDRIE, former president of the bank, is serving a term of 10 years, and his brother, Vernon, former cashier, is serving a sentence of 10 years in the Missouri State Penitentiary for embezzlement in connection with the closing of the institution.

During numerous notes that were either fictitious or forged, and juggling of the bank's accounts during the last six years, the Finance Commissioner in the suits held the directors responsible for the employment of the Bundrie brothers as officers.

Acceptance of Deposits.
The directors also are charged with accepting deposits when they should have known the bank was in an insolvent condition and with authorizing in 1929 a dividend of 8 per cent to stockholders when the institution was insolvent.

Depositors of the bank have been paid one dividend of 25 per cent on order of A. E. Merriol, Deputy Commissioner of Finance.

The first suit is against R. A. CUTMAN, J. T. SHEEHAN and T. J. JONES.

directors of the bank from the time of its organization in 1918 until March 1, 1929. A judgment of $681,118 is asked.

The second suit is against A. Vince and E. P. Newman, directors from the time of the organization until the closing of the bank. The amount asked is $271,694.88.

GETS NOTE HE THREW INTO SEA IN BOTTLE

St. Louis Man Sets Missive Adrift in Pacific in June, 1921; Receives It in Mail.

John E. Hall, retired grain dealer, who, with his wife, has been traveling about the world for the major part of the past five years, often had wondered about the tales told by sailors of the last words of sailors who were about to go to the bottom. He thought it would be interesting to try—providing he was still on the surface when the note was found.

On June 20, 1921, Hall was aboard the steamer Niagara, bound from Sydney, Australia, to Vancouver, B. C. He and a party of friends decided to experiment with the sea, and enclosed a note in a small, corked bottle, which stated that the finder would receive a check for $5 if he returned it to Hall in St. Louis. The bottle "showed off" from the Niagara between Auckland, N. Z., and Honolulu. Hall returned to St. Louis, stayed here a short time and left for Egypt, whence he recently returned. He had just about lost faith in bottles, oceans and "salty" tales. Yesterday he received a letter. It was dated Nov. 6, 1922, and was signed by a missionary in Siola, one of the British Solomon Isles. Enclosed in the missionary's letter was the note Hall had placed in the bottle. The missionary said the bottle and note had been found by a native on the short of the island of Ulawa, of the Solomon group, last July 30, a little more than 13 months after it had been set adrift. The $5, or "one pound ten," would "be a great stroke of fortune for the native, and would not be wasted," the missionary declared.

Hall estimates the bottle drifted 1200 miles during its 13 months' cruise. In the meantime, the finder, one Marlin Maton, will "stand by" for the "one pound ten." Hall will see that he gets it.

ENGLISHMAN KILLED IN MEXICO WAS WRITING BOOK ON COUNTRY

Wilfrid H. G. Ewart Came From Distinguished Military Family of Britain.

(Copyright, 1923.) LONDON, Jan. 5.—Wilfrid Herbert Gore Ewart, who was shot and killed on the balcony of his hotel in Mexico City while watching recent holiday street revels, came of a distinguished military family in Great Britain and had had considerable success with his first novel, "The Way of Revelation," published since the war.

He was severely wounded in action during the war and it was for the purpose of recuperating that he had gone to Mexico. He also was writing a book on the country. He had practically completed a history of the Second Battalion of the Scots Guards, with which he served. Ewart was of a studious, retiring disposition and had definitely forsaken the profession of arms for authorship. He was 37 years old. His mother, Lady Mary Ewart, belongs to the family of the Earl of Arran.

$622 SETTLES BOEHMER CASE

Former Washington Park (Ill.) Treasurer Not to Be Prosecuted.

The Village Board of Washington Park, Ill., a suburb of East St. Louis, at a meeting yesterday accepted $622 as payment in full for all claims against Jacob D. Boehmer, former Village Treasurer, against whom a warrant was issued a month ago charging him with forging the names of the president and secretary of the Village Board to village vouchers, on which he obtained money, which, it is alleged, he diverted to his own use.

WISCONSIN JUDGE REINSTATED

John M. Becker of Monroe Had Been Removed Under Espionage Law.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 5.—Gov. Elaine has appointed former Judge John M. Becker of Monroe to be County Judge of Green County, the position from which he was removed during the World War when charged with violation of the espionage law. The Judge, at the height of the war, was convicted on the indictment returned against him, but the case was dismissed on appeal.

In making the appointment, Gov. Elaine said "that the espionage law was misused and abused during the war, there is no doubt. There was a wrong committed against Mr. Becker and his appointment to the office from which he was removed makes possible a partial restitution of his rights."

She is a victim of drugs, the examiner asserted.

FORMER TRUSTY ADMITS PART IN $30,000 LIQUOR THEFT AT JAIL

Indictments Also Brought Against Sins of Man Who Accused Iowa Preacher-Sheriff.

By the Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Mo., Jan. 3.—Three indictments, charging breaking and stealing were returned by a special grand jury yesterday in connection with the theft of $30,000 worth of bonded whiskey from the Polk County Jail the night of Dec. 27. The men named in the indictments are

B. J. Salzman, former trusty; Everett McMurray, former city park custodian; and Clyde McMurray, former county jail turnkey. Salzman is said by police to have confessed his part in the robbery to former Sheriff W. E. Robb, known as the "Preacher-Sheriff."

On Dec. 28, three days before his term expired, Sheriff Robb was arrested on warrants sworn to by County Jailer McMurray, father of Everett and Clyde McMurray, on charges of disposing of the liquor. Robb is now at liberty under bail pending the grand jury action on the charges.

FIRE LAID TO INCENDIARIES

Authorities Make Statement on Parochial School Blaze.

By the Associated Press.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 3.—Fire which yesterday destroyed a parochial high school at St. Boniface was of incendiary origin, authorities declared today.

Three men were seen crossing the St. Boniface College grounds near the high school at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Shortly afterward the fire started.

BALLOT RECOUNTING COMMITTEE NAMED

Democrats and Republicans Included in Board Appointed for County Inquiry.

Arthur V. Lashly, former prosecuting attorney of St. Louis County, who was appointed by a mass meeting of county citizens at Clayton courthouse New Year's day to form a committee to inquire into the method of conducting the recount of votes for two contested offices, today announced the personnel of the committee, as follows:

D. C. Taylor, lawyer, of Manchester; Peter Schieler, of Meramec Highlands; Mrs. Walter Billups; George Barnett, lawyer, and J. Porter Henry, lawyer and chairman of the Clean Election League executive committee, of Webster Groves; Robert Powell, city attorney, and Mrs. L. P. Wingert of Kirkwood; James E. Hereford, lawyer, of Ferguson, and Luther T. Ward and E. T. Smith of University City.

Lashly made the following statement in connection with the announcement:

"This committee is composed of Democrats and Republicans, no consideration having been given to the political affiliations of the members. The functions of the committee, as I conceive them, are to make an investigation concerning the result of the recount of the ballots by former County Clerk William Seibel upon an order of court in the contested election cases of Fred E. Mueller vs. Adam Henry Jones for the office of prosecuting attorney, and Walter Miller vs. Edward Tiffin for the office of County Clerk, and to make a report to a mass meeting of citizens of St. Louis County later, to be called by the committee when it is ready to report."

Comments on Recount.

"As is generally known, Jones and Tiffin were declared elected on the face of the official returns, first by the judges and clerks of election, and later by the County Court, who canvassed the vote. It is now reported that the recount made under the supervision of William Seibel, former County Clerk, shows that their opponents, who are generally regarded as having the backing of the 'boss' element in St. Louis County, and one of whom was a clerk in Seibel's office, were elected. This recount was made in a remarkably short time, due, no doubt, to the fact that those in charge thereof were going out of office on Jan. 2.

"The unseemly haste and the methods reported to have been employed in the work of recounting the ballots and the astonishing reversal of the vote as reported by the recount naturally gives rise to doubts of the propriety and correctness of this proceeding."

Thorough Inquiry Urged.

"It should be the purpose of this committee to make as thorough an investigation into the circumstances of this recount as it is possible to do by a voluntary committee of this kind, and to inform the people of the county through the medium of this committee as to the result of this investigation. I am satisfied that this committee may be relied upon to do this task thoroughly and make an unbiased report of their findings just as soon as it can be done."

FIRE HAZARD BECOMES CHIEF PROBLEM IN STORING CRUDE OIL

Much of Product Now Kept in Earthen Tanks—Improvements Made in Steel Tanks.

By the Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 3.—The recent $1,000,000 fire at the Gulf Pipe Line Co. tank farm at Humble, 17 miles northeast of Houston, in which 750,000 barrels of heavy gravity crude oil were consumed, has revived discussion of the coastal method of storing crude oil in earthen reservoirs, a practice followed generally by oil companies producing and storing Gulf Coast crude.

Lightning, which caused the last great fire here, seems to show a preference in striking either earthen or steel tanks. Still, steel tank construction has reached a stage where, by packing excelsior loosely in the vent at the top of the tank and thereby affording an egress for the gases, but preventing the fire from getting down to the oil, it is believed a step has been taken toward preventing oil tank fires and consequent heavy financial losses. However, this latter means is still in the experimental stage and the oil trade seems inclined to wait for a thorough test before investing heavily in steel storage tank construction.

These earthen tanks are covered with a board roof and tar paper. In the bottom of the reservoir a pipe is inserted, connected with a gate valve off to one side of the tank. In case of fire this gate valve is opened and the pumps started to remove the oil on the bottom of the reservoir. In this way much of the oil is saved by pumping from the bottom while it is burning at the top.

Congratulations Sent "Columbia" By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 3.—A telegram to Representative Chamber of Commerce at St. Louis was read to the House this morning. The telegram congratulated the House on the selection of Oak Grove as Speaker. After the reading of the telegram Speaker Hunter exhibited several telegrams he had in his pocket, with the announcement "I have received several of them from Moberly. Some of them read:

"This might well be the Prufrock-Litton Fourth and St. Charles business growth in every way are better. Furniture homes now offered at prices obtainable."

DENIAL OF WALES ENGAGEMENT

York House Statement Declares Reports are Unfounded.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The current reports of the engagement of the Prince of Wales were denied officially in a statement from York House this afternoon.

"A few days ago," says the statement, "the Daily News announced the forthcoming engagement of the Prince of Wales to an Italian Princess. Today the same journal states, on what is claimed to be unquestionable authority, that it is informed the formal announcement that his royal highness engaged to the daughter of a Scottish peer will be made within two or three months. This report is as devoid of foundation as was the previous very definite statement of the engagement of his royal highness to a foreign Princess."

THINGS LOST NEW YEAR'S EVE RANGE FROM HAT TO DOG
22 Articles Mentioned in Advertisement—Diamond Barpin Among Them.
Twenty-two articles lost on New Year's eve have been advertised for in the "lost" columns this week. They include a diamond barpin, a platinum bracelet set with a diamond and sapphires, and a platinum wrist watch lost at the Chase Hotel, where the invasion of prohibition agents resulted in a riot.
Most of the articles are jewelry lost in hotels and in city and county roadhouses, clubs and restaurants. One county man advertised for a large collier. A woman lost her hat and beaded bag in Forest Park. Other articles, lost at clubs and restaurants, include cuff links, fans, overcoats and purses. Only six of the advertisements remained in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, 14 were in Wednesday's paper and six that appeared Tuesday did not appear Wednesday. Several of the articles were not advertised for until Wednesday, which indicates, perhaps, that the persons who lost them thought there might have been a mix-up of belongings in their respective parties.

TWO CHIMPANZEES AT ZOO OVERFED DURING HOLIDAYS
Guards Relieved by Slackening of Visitors This Week, but Will Welcome Friends Sunday.
Tulipide delicacies fed to the animals at the Zoo during the holidays by well-meaning visitors, who slipped candies and nuts to the "chimps" and others, have proved too much for the more sober-living beasts, and among those whose condition has been affected are Henry Kiel and Phil Brock, the performing chimpanzees.
However, guards stationed about the Zoo prevented too great an overdose of sweets, and most of the inhabitants in St. Louis' animal city, thanks to this prohibition of indulgent gorging, are tired but healthy, and minus the infirmities induced by riotous living.
The jovial crowd of holiday visitors gave George Vierheller, in charge of the diet of the animals, some cause for worry, and the slack period following the holidays has been relieved with relief.
"We're welcoming the rest this week," Vierheller said. "But we'll be glad to see friends again Sunday."

COURT RULING IN CASE SIMILAR TO CHASE RAID

Appellate Court Held Stronger Evidence Was Required for Issuance of Search Warrant.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals, First Circuit, in a case involving the same points at law on the issuance of a search warrant as those presented by the raid of Hotel Chase, New Year's eve by prohibition enforcement agents, has held that in making affidavit for a search warrant should be issued only upon competent evidence which would be admissible upon the trial of the case before a jury. This decision must stand as a precedent for lower courts until the Supreme Court rules otherwise.

Copies of the decision, which was handed down at Concord, N. H., reached officials of the Federal Court here yesterday.

The search warrant for Hotel Chase was obtained by Gus O. Nations, chief prohibition enforcement agent, on an affidavit in which the principal allegation was that Nations saw a bottle of whisky and two bottles of wine on a table in the dining room of Hotel Chase, Oct. 3 last (Veiled Prophet night), about three months before the raid that was authorized by the search warrant.

George V. Berry, United States Commissioner, issued the search warrant a few hours before the raid was made.

The case upon which the Circuit Court of Appeals ruled, Oct. 15 last, was that of Giles vs. United States, in which David F. Giles of Concord, N. H., was convicted of having alcohol in his possession for beverage purposes, in violation of the national prohibition act.

Judgment Reversed.

The judgment was reversed, the verdict set aside and the case remanded by the Court of Appeals chiefly because the enforcement agent's affidavit for a warrant charged illegal possession and sale of liquor, instead of an allegation that he had personal knowledge of facts competent for a jury to consider.

Commenting further on the affidavit of the enforcement agent, the Court said in its ruling:

"He had not been in Giles' drug store for three or four months. He knew nothing about the possession, legal or illegal, by Giles of intoxicating liquor, except as he heard rumors, or as complaints were made to him by one or more unnamed persons. That in this case these rumors appeared to have had some foundation is, for present purposes, immaterial. Our law does not contemplate that homes and business premises shall be thus invaded, unless and until some person takes the responsibility of disclosing under oath to a judicial tribunal facts from which such tribunal—not the applicant or affiant—finds probable cause to believe articles particularly described and properly seizable on search warrant are in a place, also particularly described.

Amalgamation of Powers.

"In this case, as no facts whatever were put before the commissioner, he was ousted from his judicial function and remitted to a performance purely perfunctory. The prohibition agent was applicant, affiant, in effect, the judge of the existence of probable cause, and the officer serving the writ. This is a very dangerous amalgamation of powers."

Article 4 of the amendments to the Constitution of the United States, regulating searches and seizures, reads: "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

DEITIES TO BE BURNED IN EFFIGY ON THE RUSSIAN CHRISTMAS

No Religion to Be Spared by Ridicule of Communists in Their Demonstration.

MOSCOW, Jan. 5.—An effigy, six feet tall, straw inside, a foot of whiskers, skull cap and knee boots. That is the approved communist conception of the deity which Russians will burn as part of their anti-religious demonstration on the Russian Christmas, Jan. 25. Another demonstration will be an impiously witty farce.

No religion is spared and the communists have included effigies of all sorts of divinities from Confucius to Adonis. Their hardest job was representing the unpictured symbol of the Christian and Jewish faiths.

Finally they decided on a figure bigger than any other of the others to represent the Almighty of both religions.

The deity is to be just a decrepit old man, the most pitiful of the 30 gods which the radicals are presenting in their campaign.

The military academy in the Kremlin has a huge collection of these figures, all mounted on wheels. They will be dragged through the streets by silk hatted young men representing capitalists. The communist cry for the day will be: "Down with the priests and rabbis!"

Wife Sues Former Football Star.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 5.—Maurice Bennett, ("Lefty") Flynn, star member of the Yale football team nearly a decade ago, has been accused of desertion in an action for divorce filed in the Superior Court here by Blanche Palmer Flynn.

Charged With Killing Woman.

By the Associated Press. RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 5.—Thomas Pollard, real estate and insurance man, was charged with first degree murder in connection with the death, Dec. 11 last, of his former stenographer, Mrs. Thelma Ham Richardson, in an indictment returned yesterday. Mrs. Richardson was shot and killed at the Pollard home here. Pollard's trial was set for Feb. 12.

Dr. MacLeod to Go to Omaha.

The Rev. Donald MacLeod, who resigned as pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Nov. 23, has received a call to the Dundee Presbyterian Church at Omaha, Neb.

ELECTED SHERIFF WITHOUT HAVING NAME ON BALLOT

G. B. Bender of Marion County, Mo., elected on Law Enforcement Platform, Defeats Four Opponents.

By the Associated Press.
MARION, Mo., Jan. 5.—Charles Bender, elected Sheriff of Marion County yesterday by a plurality of 186 at a special election to fill an unexpired term of two years, accomplished an unusual feat in winning without having his name on the ballot. He defeated three whose names appeared on the ballot and one whose name did not.
Bender, who is 39 years old, served years with the American forces during the war, and ran on a platform of law enforcement. While there were reports today of a possible contest because of the way in which it is claimed that Bender's name was written in on some ballots, Bender's adherents were confident today that he would be commissioned.

MCKINNEY PROPERTY INVENTORIED

Baker Had $93,015 Personal Property in Missouri.

An inventory of the Missouri property of John E. McKinney, wealthy baker, who died in St. Louis
Nov. 13 last, was filed yesterday in Probate Court. It showed real estate at Fifteenth and Pine streets and at 18-20 Pine street, besides $93,015 in personal property, of which $64,000 was in stocks in the Winona Oil Co., Gleason Lumber and Cement Co. and the National City Bank of St. Louis. Assets held in other states will bring the value of his estate to about $1,000,000.

McKinney began his career 45 years ago as proprietor of a small bakery at Ninth and Mound streets.
He had lived in New York, where he was one of the organizers of the General Baking Co. and, since 1920, in Tulsa, where he became interested in oil. The will, filed in Tulsa

War Gas Fatal to East St. Louisan Michael Flaherty, 32 years old, of a member of the Twelfth (St. Louis) Regiment of Engineers during the World War, died yesterday at his home of the effects of gas poisoning received while in war service in

FORMER BISHOP TO MARRY AN HEIRESS

License Obtained by Rev. R. L. Paddock to Wed Miss Helen Aitken.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The Rev. Dr. Robert Lewis Paddock, formerly Protestant Episcopal bishop of the missionary district of Eastern Oregon, and Miss Helen Aitken, heiress to half of a $2,500,000 estate, are to be married in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, next Tuesday. They obtained a license yesterday. He is 53 years old and she is 45.

He resigned as bishop last September on the ground of poor health although his friends reported at the time that certain hostility on the part of some clergymen was the underlying reason. He was a picturesque figure in the northwest, traveling in khaki, with blankets on his back, to sparsely settled regions. Before going to Oregon, Dr. Paddock attracted attention here as a vice crusader on the east side while vicar of the pro-cathedral.

Miss Aitken's father who died in 1915 was head of a dry goods firm and left an estate valued at $2,500,000 to be divided between his daughter and son.

HAWAIIAN FOOTBALL PLAYER CLOSES TWENTY-FIFTH SEASON

Forty-Year-Old Athlete Says Modern Game Is Tame and Has "No Fight in It."

By the Associated Press.
HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 15.—Frank Kanae, Hawaiian, has played football 25 years, and during the season just closed set such a fast pace that he was regarded as one of the best linemen in Hawaii. Kanae, who is 40 years old and the father of 18 children, many years ago earned the title of "cannon-ball" the result of his fierce line charging.

"But the game isn't as of yore," says Kanae. "No fight left in it, it's getting tame; the old game with the hurdling and the mass plays was the stuff." Kanae remarks, "That's when you had to yell 'down' when you had enough. I guess I'll have to retire pretty soon."

Kanae was born on the island of Molokai. He attended the St. Louis prep school and the Kamehameha School, playing football at both. Later he mixed with the Honolulu Athletic Club, the Cahu team, the Honolulu town team, the First Hawaiian Infantry eleven, and since 1915, with the Panama settlement team. Tackle is his chosen position.

Canada and Italy in Trade Treaty.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 5.—A commercial treaty between Canada and Italy was signed at the Foreign Office yesterday. W. S. Fielding, one of the Canadian signers, said that he had approached the Belgian, Spanish and Italian Governments with a view to similar agreements. A commercial treaty between Canada and France was signed recently.

Remember Tonsiline

TONSILINE is the National Sore Throat Remedy—it is sold in every State in the Union. Most people buy a bottle occasionally because most people occasionally have Sore Throat. They buy it for the prompt, welcome relief it brings to sufferers from this malady. You can forget Sore Throat if you will only remember TONSILINE and get the bottle NOW that waits for you at your druggists. Look for the long necked fellow on the bottle when you get it. 35 cents and 60 cents. Hospital Size, $1.00.

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home

It's Cheap—but You Can't Beat It.

If you want to take care of that bad, hang-on cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Parmit (double strength) and mix a half pint at home.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle. You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It halts the inflammation, the tickling sensation stops with the first spoonful, the heavy breathing goes and clean membrane, free from irritation and mucus follows.

For catarrhal conditions such as mucus droppings, clogged nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Parmit (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want.

NUNS' RESIDENCE HELD TAXABLE

Illinois Supreme Court Affirms County Court Judgment.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 5.—Property used as a residence for an order of Catholic nuns is not exempt from taxation under the provisions of the Constitution exempting religious property, a recent opinion of the Illinois Supreme Court held. The case came up from Rockford and involved the Poor Clares, an organization of nuns occupying a home formerly used as the Broughton Sanatorium. Justice Cartwright, delivering the opinion of the Court, said:

"The nuns have no relation, near or remote to the public, but are separated and secluded from the world and are not in any manner connected with public worship, religious instruction or public religious observance."

"There is no ground upon which this property can be placed on a different footing from the residence of a priest, rector or pastor, and it is settled that such property is not exempt."

The opinion of the high court affirms a judgment of Judge Carpenter in the County Court at Rockford.

COL. OCKERSON TELLS OF NEED OF PLAZA AND WIDER STREETS

Railroad Engineer Talks in Behalf of Two of Propositions in Bond Issue Election.

The following is the text of an address by Col. John A. Ockerson, a well-known railroad engineer, Tuesday evening in support of two propositions involved in the bond issue election of Feb. 9. The address was broadcast by radio from Station K S D.

"For many years citizens of St. Louis, as well as visitors to this city, have been conscious of the unsightly condition of property-fronting Union Station. Much has been said but nothing as yet has been done to improve this condition. An ordinance has been passed for the widening of Market street. The city's share of the cost of this project is included in proposition one of the bond issue.

"Property on the north side of Market street, between Eighteenth and Twentieth street, fronting Union Station, has a depth of 72 feet. Forty feet of this will be taken for the widening of Market street, leaving 28 feet, which will be entirely inadequate for proper building sites. It would probably be impracticable to combine this property with other property in the north half of the block because of the existing alley which could not be closed except with the unanimous consent of the property owners in the block. Such unanimous consent where a large number of property owners are involved is seldom ever obtained.

"The widening of Market street, therefore, while affording a splendid new approach to the Union Station, may even result in a less satisfactory appearance of the property opposite the station than exists at the present time unless all of the remaining property in the two blocks bounded by Market street, Eighteenth street, Chestnut street and Twentieth street, can be secured. To acquire merely so much of the property as would be sufficient to make the street south of the alley would be objectionable, for the Union Station would then be faced by the rear of all the property now fronting on the south side of Chestnut street.

Property in Two Blocks Needed.
"The obvious result of these considerations demands that the entire property in the two blocks bounded by Eighteenth, Twentieth, Market and Chestnut streets be acquired for the purpose of developing a plaza in front of the Union Station. This will have the merit of exceptional usefulness while greatly improving the outlook from Union Station.

"There is much traffic congestion in front of its splendid new Union Station. More parking space is needed as well as more street room for moving vehicles. The available space on Market street is entirely out of keeping with the needs of Union Station. With Market street widened there will be a still greater volume of moving traffic to provide for. Furthermore, traffic in Union Station is rapidly increasing. The recent reports of an engineers' committee recommends certain improvements and enlargements in Union Station. All of which indicate the need for more parking space and a new street layout. The creation of the plaza will give opportunity for greater freedom of vehicular movement at a most important point in the city. It will give opportunity for additional parking space without necessarily absorbing all the open space for merely parking places.

Projects Involved.
"The present surroundings of Union Station daily present to thousands of visitors an impression which is unpleasant and entirely out of harmony with the character of the real St. Louis. Kansas City appreciates the value of an open space in front of its splendid new Union Station, where there is street room for thousands of vehicles, and several acres of park also provided. The same is true of the station in Washington, D. C., and the new Union Station in Detroit, and the two sites considered for the new Union Station of Cleveland.

Would Solve Traffic Problems.
"Under the plan here proposed we would help solve as well as anticipate our traffic problems and at the same time create a formal plaza, ornamented with attractive lighting standards and affording location for one or two excellent commemorative statues or similar structures of architectural merit.

"The structures which now surround Union Station are far from creditable. A plaza would stimulate better buildings, such as much needed hotels, and thus create increased property values and improvements equal to the cost of the plaza itself.

"The practical value of this open plaza is that it would give a new impetus to the development of aeronautics in this part of the country, and I am sure that St. Louis most certainly will be awarded the meet if Lambert field is approved by the Inspection Committee."

times of St. Louis is the Major Street Plan, published by the City Plan Commission in 1917. This idea of widening, connecting, straightening and extending certain of the main traffic thoroughfares of the city into a framework of well arranged, adequately equipped traffic channels, to serve the entire city, has been met with practically universal approval.

Traffic Increasing Rapidly.
"St. Louis is undergoing a tremendous increase in vehicular traffic, and the various street widening and opening projects are scarcely being completed in time to meet the demands. In 1914 there were 9867 licensed motor vehicles in St. Louis. In 1921 there were 60,473 licensed vehicles in St. Louis. It is estimated that within five years there will be 200,000 motor vehicles using the streets of St. Louis. Increased ownership of automobiles in St. Louis, together with the completion of the vast highway programs in the states of Missouri and Illinois will add constantly increasing numbers of vehicles on the thoroughfares of this city. This means increased opportunities for business in St. Louis for which it is our duty to provide. Our present street system is wholly inadequate and unless prompt measures are taken the wheels of traffic will be blocked for lack of room.

"St. Louis has the best charter provisions for distribution of street widening costs of any city in the United States. Costs are distributed for every project in three ways: (1) upon the frontage opened or widened; (2) within a district deemed to be benefited by the opening or widening; and (3) upon the city at large. The actual determination of the distribution of cost varies in every project and is determined by a special commission of three members appointed by the Circuit Court for each separate project. In every case there is a certain percentage of the cost assessed against the city as a legitimate city-wide benefit.

Ordinances have already been passed for approximately 75 openings and widenings of streets, in accordance with the major street plan. It is estimated that the city's share of the cost of these projects is slightly more than $6,000,000. In order to expedite acquisition of title and completion of the improvement where legal delays are involved, the Board of Aldermen has wisely provided in the No. 1 of the bond issue that the city should pay $250,000.

"The widening of Washington boulevard from Jefferson avenue to Grand boulevard has given great relief to prevailing traffic congestion, while substantial increases in property values have occurred and no undue financial burden has been created. South Twelfth street has been opened, and where little traffic has passed over this route in 1916, it is today the second heaviest thoroughfare in the entire city. The city's share of the cost of these two projects was paid out of the current revenues. We cannot expect to take $6,000,000 or $8,000,000 needed to complete various other projects out of the already overtaxed current revenues of the city. A bond issue is required for this purpose.

Division of Tax Levy.
"The $2.50 tax levy for each $100 assessed valuation for 1922 included the following:

- 13 cents for State.
- 85 cents for school maintenance.
- 25 cents for interest and sinking fund on outstanding bonded indebtedness.
- $1.19 for all city purposes, exclusive of waterworks.
- 4 cents for Library maintenance.
- 2 cents for Zoo maintenance.

"The interest and sinking fund levy rate, as estimated, starts at the 25-cent level, increases to a high point, then drops away to nothing, due to the plan of issuing only a part of the 20-year serial bonds each year over a 10-year construction period. The bulk of the bonds would be outstanding about 1932, accounting for the peak tax rate for interest and sinking fund in that year. As the bonds are retired the rate drops away to nothing.

Based on 4 1/2 Per Cent Interest.
"A calculation on the bond cost is based on the bonds bearing an interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent on the Controller's estimate of an average annual increase of $15,000,000 in assessed valuations over the 30-year period.

"Provision for the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the city, as well as the new bonds, is made in the estimated rates for the interest and sinking fund levy from 1923 to 1952. The outstanding city debt is listed at $18,113,000 and the school bond debt at $3,000,000, a total of $21,113,000. Funds now in the sinking fund for retirement of the outstanding city debt, when the bonds mature, leave a net city debt of $9,269,399.

NOLTE ESTIMATES 21C TAX INCREASE IF ALL BONDS PASS

Figures Prepared by Comptroller Show Average for Next 30 Years Would Be $2.71 a $100 Valuation.

$3 A $100 WOULD BE THE PEAK RATE

Based on No Further Upward Revision of Levies Except 8-Cent Increase for City Purposes.

Estimates of the probable tax rate for all purposes in St. Louis for the next 30 years, if the entire $88,372,500 bond issue for public improvements is voted at the special election Feb. 9, were prepared today by Comptroller Nolte. They show the tax rate over the period 1923-1952 would average $2.71 the $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 21 cents over the rate of $2.50 levied for 1922.

"This average increase of 21 cents a $100 valuation for 30 years over the 1922 rate, includes an increase of 8 cents estimated by the Comptroller as needed for municipal purposes, exclusive of waterworks. His table shows an increase of 5 cents in 1923 in the 1922 rate of $1.19 for city purposes, and a further increase of 3 cents in this rate in 1925.

"The 30-year table shows a peak rate of $2.71 a $100 assessed valuation, for all purposes, in 1932, and a low rate of $2.33 in 1952. This is based on no further upward revision of levies during the 30-year period, except for the 8-cent increase in the levy for city purposes.

Increases in the Levy for Interest and sinking fund, which would include the bonds, are calculated on the basis of $7,000,000 in bonds being issued. The $12,000,000 of the works item in the bond issue would be retired out of Water Department revenues and not by taxation.

Retirement of Bonds.
"The rate for interest and retirement of bonds, as shown in the table, ranges from 25 cents in 1923 up to 67 cents in 1932 and drops to 3 cents in 1951. The average is 39.17-29 cents a year for 29 years, which is an average annual increase of 14.17-29 cents over the levy of 25 cents this year for interest and sinking fund.

Three cents for school bonds are included in the 25-cent interest and sinking fund levy for this year. Figures recently prepared show this levy averaged 31 cents for the last 10 years. Compared to the annual average for the last 10 years, the 29-year average levy of 39.17-29 cents would be the average annual difference in cost to the taxpayer from the average he has paid in the last 10 years.

Division of Tax Levy.
"The $2.50 tax levy for each $100 assessed valuation for 1922 included the following:

- 13 cents for State.
- 85 cents for school maintenance.
- 25 cents for interest and sinking fund on outstanding bonded indebtedness.
- $1.19 for all city purposes, exclusive of waterworks.
- 4 cents for Library maintenance.
- 2 cents for Zoo maintenance.

"The interest and sinking fund levy rate, as estimated, starts at the 25-cent level, increases to a high point, then drops away to nothing, due to the plan of issuing only a part of the 20-year serial bonds each year over a 10-year construction period. FORMAL CHARGES AWAITED IN HOTEL CHASE SHOOTING

Police Board to Take No Action in Case Unless Complaint Is Filed Against Detective Sullivan.

REPORT SUPPRESSED FOR FOUR DAYS

Nations Accepts Official Responsibility for Happenings During the Raid New Year's Eve.

Although denying official responsibility for the shooting in the Hotel Chase raid, New Year's eve, the Board of Police Commissioners through its president, Philip H. Brookman, announced today that it will entertain a formal complaint against Detective Edward Sullivan, who fired the shot that crowded the dining room that wounded a woman and two men.

"The board will take no action in the matter unless a formal complaint is filed with the board by the persons who were shot," said President Brookman. "The matter is still pending. All the board has before it at this time is the report of Detective Sullivan that he fired the shot, and the assurance of Chief Federal Prohibition Enforcement Agent Nations that he will accept official responsibility for the happenings during the raid."

Suppressed for Four Days.
Detective Sullivan wrote the report Monday at his home, 4555 St. Ferdinand avenue, where he is being treated by a police surgeon for injuries he claimed to have suffered in the rioting growing out of the raid. The report was suppressed by police officials for four days until it could be submitted to the Police Board. However, it was exclusively in the hands of the Police Board and the Board of Police Commissioners until yesterday's Post-Dispatch that the shooting was done by Detective Sullivan, and not by one of Nations' deputies, as had been intimated.

Detention of Sullivan.
We then entered the dining room and began looking over the tables. After proceeding more than half way to the east end of the room the patrons began jeering us and a little later began throwing plates, cups, glasses, knives and forks, salt and pepper shakers at us. Several of which struck me about the head and shoulders. The jeering and the other officers, began moving through the "mob" toward the door, all of the time being pulled and dragged back and forth by the crowd, many of whom were in an intoxicated condition.

The "mob" all of them were yelling "Lynch them." "Throw them out." "Where is Nations?" and other things of a like nature. I had gotten toward the front part of the dining room when I was attacked by several men, all of whom were striking me from the rear. I was finally knocked down and while down three or four men were kicking me in the side and back. Also one man said, "Throw pepper in his eyes and blind him."

I managed to rise from the floor to my knees and seeing them attempt to kick me again I drew my revolver and shot at the man who was kicking me. I later learned that he had been shot in the leg. I found that I was bleeding from a lacerated lip, also four of my front teeth were loose, and bruised on back and sides.

On account of the "mob" I was unable to re-enter the place to give any assistance to the injured.

John Pazdera, 1311 Hamilton avenue, one of the three persons wounded by Detective Sullivan's bullet, denied that he was kicking the detective when the shot was fired, and said he did not believe the officer who fired the shot was knocked down. "I was pushed by the crowd to within nine feet of the officer who shot me," said Pazdera. "I was facing him, but when he looked toward me and reached for his revolver I turned aside and was struck in the knee. He was standing when he fired."

CITIZENS PLAN MEETING TO DISCUSS DRY ENFORCEMENT

Gathering for Purpose of Acquainting the Public With Facts as to Methods Used By Prohibition Agents.

A mass meeting of citizens to discuss the method in which the prohibition laws are being enforced in St. Louis was planned for next week by a group of about 25 business and professional men, who met yesterday in the office of former Federal Judge Henry S. Priest. Two committees were appointed, one charged with arranging for the mass meeting and the other to draw up resolutions designed to acquaint the public with facts as to the methods of prohibition agents.

The raid on the Chase Hotel New Year's eve, led by Gus O. Nations, local chief of the Federal enforcement department, furnished the provocation for the gathering yesterday, but it was stated that this raid was considered only a striking example of general conditions. "The meeting was not open to the press but announcement of its work was made afterwards at Priest's office."

Personnel of Committees.
The personnel of the committees, as announced, follows:

Mass Meeting Committee — Robert Keiser, George R. Wendling Jr., W. Frank Carter, Roy F. Britton, Herbert D. Condie, A. L. Appleleigh, Tom P. Barnett, Otto Oehler, Henry A. Boeckeler and Louis Idler.

Resolution Committee — Malcolm McMenamy, Sterling Edmonds, Samuel W. Fordyce, Paul Rakewell Jr., and James W. Byrnes.

Chairmen were not named for the committees. The Mass Meeting Committee arranged to meet this afternoon to make its arrangements. The Citizens' committee was spoken of as places for holding the meeting, in the belief that a large crowd would be attracted, and Wednesday or Thursday evening for the time. The Resolution Committee will meet tomorrow morning and expects to make public its pronouncement afterwards.

Object of the Meeting.
A spokesman for yesterday's meeting said that the mass meeting will be designed to protest against "unlawful methods" of enforcing the Volstead act, but not against lawful enforcement of the law. "The department, furnished the provocation for the gathering yesterday, but it was stated that this raid was considered only a striking example of general conditions. "The meeting was not open to the press but announcement of its work was made afterwards at Priest's office."

HOUSE DEMOCRATS UNDER PARTY LASH IN SECRET CAUCUS

First Steps Taken Looking Toward Dictatorial Rule of State Legislature by Majority Party.

NEW MEMBERS ARE LECTURED BY LEADERS

Decision on Two Contests Expected to Be First Action in House—Democrats Likely to Be Seated.

By CURTIS A. BETTS.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 5.—Preliminary steps looking to caucus control of legislation by the Democratic majority in the Legislature, a control as dictatorial as that exercised by Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd through the Republican Senate caucus two years ago, were taken last night when representatives of the Democratic majority in the House under the lash of the party whip in a closely guarded secret caucus in the House chamber.

For nearly two hours Honey and a few others of the experienced legislators lectured new representatives and demanded that every individual Democratic member should be ready to respond with unflinching party loyalty and party regularity with the vote on any measure which it was thought advisable to take into party caucus.

Reference to Election Bills.
While none of the leaders last night went into any detail of the measures which would be made caucus matters and on which the Democrats would reduce the majority by threats of political ostracism, to vote with the caucus, there were references to election bills which will be presented and there were indirect references to the action on contested seats in the house.

The first caucus matter which will come up will be the decision on two contested seats. While the Democrats have a majority, with seven votes more than enough to pass a measure, margin is not considered entirely safe in that a few cases of sickness and the absence of a very few members would reduce the majority below the safety mark and for the low the party leaders are particularly anxious that the Democrats in the two contests shall be seated.

Results of Contests Anticipated.
In one contest the Republican candidate is occupying the seat which is being contested by a Democrat and in the other, a seat occupied by a Democrat is being contested by a Republican. In view of the caucus action last night it is believed that both Democratic seats will be seated. If they are, the Democrats will have a total membership in the House of 84 or eight more than enough to pass a measure. One of the contests is in Cole County, where William M. Turbett, Republican, was declared elected. His seat is being contested by C. H. Corwin. Both reside in Jefferson City. Corwin's opponent is a Democrat, and in the other, a seat occupied by a Democrat is being contested by a Republican. In view of the caucus action last night it is believed that both Democratic seats will be seated. If they are, the Democrats will have a total membership in the House of 84 or eight more than enough to pass a measure. One of the contests is in Cole County, where William M. $85,564,000 IN DIVIDENDS BY ONE OIL COMPANY SINCE 1911

Cash Payments by Magnolia Concern $27,183,000, Senate Oil Investors Are Told.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Dividend payments, either through cash or stock, amounting to $85,564,000 have been made by the Magnolia Petroleum Co. since organization in 1911, according to testimony offered today in the Senate oil inquiry.

William C. Proctor, treasurer of the company, which has its headquarters at Dallas, Tex., appeared as the first witness.

The dividend declarations, Proctor testified, included stock issues of $25,000,000 and cash payments of $127,183,000. The first stock dividend was declared two hours after the corporation was organized, but no cash dividends were paid until 1915, and since then have amounted only to 1 per cent quarterly.

Proctor said the capitalization originally was $2,450,000, but had been increased through the stock dividends and additional issues to $120,000,000 by last Dec. 30.

Harvey C. Smart, superintendent of refineries for the Standard Oil Co. of New York, was asked concerning the various processes used in the production of gasoline. He testified that the Standard of New York paid to the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, for the use of the latter's process, known as the Burton process, about $186,000 in 1920, $20,000 in 1921 and $107,000 for the first six months of 1922. These payments, he added, were based on one-fourth of the profits from gasoline produced by the process.

ESCAPED CONVICT AND MISSING GIRL REPORTED UNDER ARREST

Young Missouri Woman Said to Have Disappeared With Jack Mason of State Prison.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 5.—Investigation has disclosed that Grace Howery disappeared with Jack Mason, an escaped convict from the Missouri penitentiary, six months ago. The recent arrest in Saskatchewan of Mason, whose real name, Federal agents say, is Henry L. Goldman, and Grace Howery, ended a six months search by parents of the girl.

Godman escaped from the prison at Jefferson City in March, 1922. Federal agents say he is said to have been sent there from Harrison County, Mo., March 4, 1921, on a 10-year sentence for robbery. Grace Howery's parents live in Bethany, Mo.

According to Federal agents, Grace Howery, in a letter to her parents, told of her marriage in July to a man, "The finest man in all the world," and the birth in August of a son, "with red hair and large hands," the "very image of its father." Sam Hill, warden at the State prison, has been notified of Godman's arrest.

CLERKSHIP RESOLUTION BROKEN

One More Employee Added to State House "Maximum" of 122.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 5.—Increase in the number of employees of the House, so solemnly limited to 122 by the caucus of Democratic members, Tuesday night, was begun today. The number went up to 123 by the adoption of a resolution appointing a clerk for the Committee on Accounts.

The entering wedge. It has been customary for the Legislature to start with a small number of employees, to pledge economy through limitation of the number and later to throw the bars down.

On motion of Representatives Sales of Shannon County a resolution was adopted ordering a bi-weekly report of the services performed by all employees and requiring that all report at a definite hour each morning for week.

Now, time after time the roll call showed a solid Republican vote and time after time the Democrats protested in vain against the roughshod manner in which they were run over, but Lloyd and his Republican followers only grinned and did it again when they thought the occasion required. It is that sort of game which the Democrats plan this year, demonstrating again that it makes no difference which party is in power, the system remains the same.

So far the Democratic Senate caucus has not been whipped into shape, but it will be, and Gov. Hyde and the Republican members of the Senate are already resigning themselves to accept whatever the Democratic legislative leaders see fit to impose upon them.

Issuance of a marriage license here yesterday to George Demint and Mrs. C. W. AMERICAN HISTORY FOR AMERICAN CHILDREN

Colonel Hamilton, Who Paid the Indians to Scalp
Colonists, Was Captured When His Fort Fell.

The Garrison of Two Surrendered.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

(Copyright, 1923)
EVEN before the Revolution, adventurous spirits had begun to cross the Allegheny Mountains from Virginia and North Carolina and had built homes for themselves on the edge of the great "Middle West." These intrusions were viewed with great disfavor by the Indians, who saw their territory thus being encroached upon. Thereupon, when the Revolution broke out, the Indians were all on the side of the British. Colonel Hamilton, the British commander of the Northwest, stationed at Detroit, did all he could to persuade the tribes to join together in an attack upon the Americans who lived along the Western front. To encourage them to "Schrecklichkeit" he paid them good cash for every American scalp which was turned in at British headquarters. Of course, he was deeply hated by the Americans, who nicknamed him the "Hair Buyer."

Raiding parties by the Indians became an everyday occurrence, and the colonists lived in constant terror of their lives. Villages were burned, farms were raided, families were massacred, the Indians showing the greatest impartiality when it came to murder, and scalping old women and babies as cheerfully as they did the men and boys. The Wyoming massacre, in northern Pennsylvania, is one of the best remembered of these massacres. Any book on American history in any library will give you all the terrible details of this event. It is an old story now and I would rather pass it over without further comment.

When this sort of thing had been going on for some time, a young Virginian, named George Clark, determined to put an end to it. He started down the Ohio River from Wheeling, and at Louisville struck across country to the region which is now called Illinois. Everywhere he told the people, who were nearly all French (you will remember that the Mississippi Valley had been originally explored and settled by the French), that France was now an ally of America, and these little cities willingly allowed themselves to be "captured" by this young Virginian with his 200 followers. The people of Vincennes, for example, said that a garrison of two revolutionary soldiers would be sufficient to keep them in submission. Leaving the two soldiers as per request, Clark then went on his way.

When the news of these pleasant events reached Colonel Hamilton at Detroit, he was not at all pleased, and promptly marched down with 800 men to recapture the fortress at Vincennes. The garrison of two turned out to face the enemy. "Surrender," said Colonel Hamilton. "Not so," said Captain Helm of the Americans, "until we know your terms." "Honors of war," said Colonel Hamilton, thinking he had to deal with a considerable force. The offer was accepted, and the two Americans marched solemnly out between the lines of the 800 British, drawn up to receive the retiring garrison, with proper ceremony.

Whether there were any casualties on account of excessive laughter we do not know. When he learned how few men Clark had with him, Hamilton kept only 80 of his soldiers behind in Vincennes and sent the others back to Detroit. Then he settled down to enjoy the winter sports of Vincennes. But he had underestimated the energy of young Colonel Clark. As soon as he heard that his garrison had been forced to surrender, he returned with a few French recruits which he had picked up en route. On the 24th of February he recaptured the fort, together with Hamilton, his 80 soldiers, and their skates and snowshoes. The "Hair Buyer" was then taken to Virginia, where he was locked up and kept in close confinement until the end of the war. What became of him thereafter, I don't know, but I think that I can give you his present address.

VERDICT FOR $100 AGAINST SISTERS, WHO STOPPED FUNERAL

Suit Grew Out of Incident at Fee Cemetery in St. Louis County, May 28 Last.

A jury in Justice of the Peace Schuler's Court, 200 South Twelfth street, five of whom were negroes, yesterday awarded Mrs. Anna Alter of 4214A Chouteau avenue, $100 damages against Mrs. Dora Hartuppe, 1433 Holladay avenue, and her sister, Mrs. Rose Matson, 6141 Wagoner place, because of illness and humiliation Mrs. Alter is said to have suffered when the sisters prevented the interment of Mrs. Alter's stepfather, Charles W. O'Neal, 83 years old, at Fee Cemetery last May 28, in a grave already dug and which was contended to be on a lot owned by the heirs of the late William T. Drummond, father of Mrs. Hartuppe and Mrs. Matson.

Testimony showed that as the last rites were about to be said and the coffin lowered into the grave, the funeral was stopped because of objections by Mrs. Hartuppe and Mrs. Matson. Mrs. Alter said she had paid the undertaker for the spot after the sexton of the cemetery had sold her the grave. However, Louis Rolfe, the sexton, said he had understood Mrs. Alter when she purchased the site, as she said she wished to have her stepfather buried as near to Drummond as possible, because O'Neal was Drummond's brother-in-law, and he believed he was entitled to the spot.

Because of the interruption, testimony revealed, it became necessary to buy another grave and the day being Sunday, the pallbearers and mourners were compelled to dig the grave. The suit asked for $250 damages and a like amount for punitive damages.

ADVERTISING BY DEALERS AS PRIVATE OWNERS NOW ILLEGAL

New Ordinance Is Aimed at "Forced Sales" of Furniture and Autos at Residences.

Under the terms of an ordinance effective today dealers are prohibited from advertising goods for sale as private owners of the property. A fine of not more than $500 is the penalty for each offense.

The ordinance was introduced by Alderman Hart, who explained that the method of advertising used by some furniture and automobile dealers had been brought to his attention. These men would advertise a sacrifice sale of furniture or an automobile, naming in their advertisement a private address. Then they would rent a house or have one of their agents give his own address. This was done in the belief that people would purchase more readily if they thought they were buying from a private owner who was forced to sacrifice his possessions.

MOSCOW CELEBRATES NEW YEAR AS IT DID IN PRE-WAR DAYS

Costly Wines, Luxurious Foods and Richly Dressed Women Inside. Beggars Outside Cafe. Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. (Copyright, 1923.)

MOSCOW, Jan. 5.—Moscow's New Year celebration recalled pre-war days. It was in startling contrast to the generally accepted ideas of Russian condition. The correspondent witnessed the festivities in one of the largest of the city's restaurants. The place was packed to overflowing and hundreds were turned away. Many of the men and all the women were in full evening dress. The women's costumes were very decorative and many of them wore great clusters of diamonds, ropes of pearls and pearl earrings of great size and beauty. All of the guests were Russian except the writer.

Champagne was the favorite drink at several hundred million rubles a bottle. The most luxurious foods from caviar to game were on every table, and many colored lights played above the seasonal decorations. A big orchestra in evening dress welcomed the new year by playing the Internationale. This hymn of poverty and revolt was harmonized here as a chant of luxury. The music finished, the performers turned to long glasses of golden wine, which were placed at each man's side. When the festivities closed most of the revelers made their way outside through crowds of ragged, importunate beggars.

PLAY ON ANY STANDARD PHONOGRAPH

Station K S D will present two New York Winter Garden favorites in its regular 8 o'clock concert tonight—Bob Nelson, popular song artist, and Ethel Davis, who will give a medley of the newest musical comedy sketches. Nelson will be heard at 8 o'clock and Miss Davis will be heard in the latter part of the program. Both are appearing this week at the Schubert-Empress Theater and will be heard over the radio through the courtesy of that theater management.

The remainder of the program will be given by local artists, who are Mildred Anna Tule, soprano; Thomas A. Turner, baritone; Louise Major, pianist; Carl Zerbe and Mrs. Georgia Lee Cunningham, accompanists. An address on one of the propositions in the forthcoming municipal bond issue election also will be a part of the program. J. A. Travilla, former Street Commissioner of St. Louis, will be the speaker. The 8 o'clock broadcasting period last night was omitted in accordance with the new plan of Station K S D for a "silent night" each Thursday up to 11:30 o'clock. At that hour the usual midnight concert for Thursday evening was presented. Those taking part were: H. Humbert, baritone, who has come to St. Louis recently from Boston; Mabel Browning, violinist; Mrs. Fannie Hochstadt of Madison, Ill., soprano; Miss Erminie Stevenson and Mrs. Beulah Sunderland, accompanists. Humbert's is one of the best voices which have been broadcast by Station K S D.

CENSORSHIP FIGHT HAYS' CHIEF DUTY, MINISTER BELIEVES

Movie "Dictator" Paid $150,000 a Year to Block Such Legislation, Opinion of Rev. Armstrong.

That Will H. Hays, former Postmaster-General, was employed by the motion picture industry at a salary of $150,000 a year principally to prevent censorship legislation, is the belief of the Rev. Arthur H. Armstrong, executive secretary of the Church Federation of St. Louis.

He also believes that the narrow margin by which the motion picture censorship bill failed of passage in the Missouri Legislature two years ago "was the incident used by motion picture producers to scare each other into employing Hays."

Rev. Armstrong expressed his opinion yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Committee of Fifty of St. Louis at the Chamber of Commerce. The committee voted to urge adoption by the present Legislature of the censorship measure and eight other bills which the committee sponsored two years ago, but which failed of passage.

Fourth Greatest Industry.

"The same tactics will be pursued by the motion picture industry against this censorship bill that have been followed in every other state since Hays has been appointed," Rev. Armstrong continued. "I happened to be in Massachusetts when the censorship bill was up there and I know to what ends the picture producers will go. The secretary of the Church Federation at Boston informed me that there never was such a war chest in the State as was used to defeat the censorship bill."

Other speakers at the meeting predicted that the representatives of the motion picture industry would make a strong fight against the proposed law.

Edward V. P. Schneiderhahn, who has prepared a draft of the censorship bill providing for a board of censors to review all motion pictures shown in the State and granting the board power to reject all or any part of films, requested the organizations represented at the meeting to urge friendly legislators to guard against the censorship bill being stolen after it is introduced.

Both Dr. Bullman and Schneiderhahn said that the censorship measure has better chances to pass at this session than it did two years ago. The measure at that time was passed by the House, over an adverse committee report, but failed of passage in the Senate because of delay in the Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence, of which former Senator Henry W. Blodgett of St. Louis was chairman.

Warner Opposed Bill.

State Senator Frank Warner of St. Louis, who held over to the present session of the Legislature, and who is interested financially in motion picture theaters, was the principal opponent of the measure in the Senate two years ago.

Other measures which the Committee of Fifty yesterday voted to urge for passage by the Legislature are:

A bill making it a misdemeanor for a person to register under a false name at a hotel or to indicate that the person registering is accompanied by his wife when such is not the fact.

A bill forbidding indecent exhibitions, theatrical plays, etc., the power of prosecution being lodged with the Prosecuting Attorney.

A bill to amend the law prohibiting the sale of papers or periodicals dealing principally in crimes to a "minor child" so that it will apply to "minors" only. The committee believes use of the word "child" in the present statute is confusing.

A bill to provide better control of penny arcades.

A bill to amend the present law forbidding the sale of indecent pictures or books so as to also prevent the showing of them.

A bill to prevent display of indecent signs or pictures on private property. This is aimed at displays on motion picture theater bill boards.

A bill to empower prosecuting authorities to destroy any indecent pictures or literature providing the owner is convicted of possessing it.

A bill to require five days to elapse between the application for a marriage license and its issuance. This proposition also has the backing of the Children's Code Commission.

Arbuckle Case Discussed.

The Committee of Fifty discussed briefly the order reinstating Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle in motion pictures, act as a body, fearing such action might complicate its position in favor of the order, but the committee did not of censorship.

ply of cars was only $9,908 below the demand. During November current shortages were almost twice as great, but there has been a continuous decline in the total shortage.
There was a total of 9963 freight cars in surplus, scattered about railroad lines at points where no demand for them existed.

MOVIES' ADVISORY BODY
OPPOSED TO ARBUCKLE

Recommends to Hays That He Advise Against Return of Comedian to Pictures.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The public relations committee, advisory body of the motion picture industry meeting in Will H. Hays' office here, took a position yesterday on the question of "Fatty" Arbuckle's return to the films which is in direct conflict with the public impression of Hays' intention several weeks ago in announcing a willingness to let the actor "go to work and make good if he can."

In a session lasting three and one-half hours, with Hays present, the 45 members of the committee, many of them powerful leaders of the national, civic and educational organizations they represent, adopted a resolution denouncing the proposed return of Arbuckle to pictures and recommending that Hays advise the motion picture industry to refrain from exhibiting pictures in which Arbuckle appears.

Although he had no formal statement to accompany the issuance of the resolution to the newspapers, Hays said he would transmit it to the motion picture producers.

The resolution, in part, follows: "In the judgment of the committee, it would be extremely detrimental to the youth of America for Arbuckle's pictures to be released for circulation, since it is highly desirable that reminders which would naturally come with his reappearance on the screen should not be placed thus before the public."

"Such releases would also, in the opinion of the committee, tend to destroy public confidence in the purpose of the motion picture industry to establish and maintain the highest possible moral and artistic standards in motion picture production and develop the educational as well as the entertainment value and general usefulness of motion pictures."

Some of the members in attendance were: Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the Secretary of Commerce, representing the Girl Scouts, of which she is president; Julius H. Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who has resigned from the committee on public relations for several stated reasons, among others Hays' reinstatement of Arbuckle; and Mrs. Oliver Hartman, president of the Camp Fire Girls.

SOVIET URGES ONLY DRY RATIONS

Russians Also Propose That Relief Agencies Reduce Staffs.

MOSCOW, Jan. 5.—The Central Committee battling the effects of the famine has decided to propose that all foreign relief organizations hereafter furnish only dry rations, which will be distributed through the soviet institutions. The committee will also insist upon an immediate reduction in the number of soup kitchens and in the size of the administrative staffs. These steps will be taken, it was decided, with a view to reducing expenses.

Farmer to Be Tried for Bomb Murder.

By the Associated Press.
WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis., Jan. 5.—John Magnuson, farmer, was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday for the murder of Mrs. James Chapman, wife of a County Commissioner, who was killed last week when a bomb in what purported to be a Christmas package exploded while she and Chapman were opening it. Mr. Chapman's left arm was torn off. Magnuson, held without bond, will be tried at the March term of court.

HOW DOCTORS
TREAT COLDS
AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds, coughs, sore throat and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and colds and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One or two Calotabs on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Genuine Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, vest-pocket size.

UNION TREASURER ROBBED
 Plasterers' Treasurer Loses $231 to Holdup Men; $400 Overlooked.
 Jacob Heald, 45, of 4340 Ashland avenue, treasurer of Local No. 13, Operative Plasterers and Cement Finishers Union, reported he was held up and robbed of $231 by two armed men near his home at 12:30 a. m. today. He said the men apparently had been waiting for him. They overlooked $400 in a vest pocket. Heald said he was returning from a meeting of the union at which he collected, as dues, $823. He said some of this amount had been disbursed at the meeting.

 The very name tells you it is a most beautiful Marimba waltz. And wait till you hear

Kabakoff Returns From Trip Abroad Wiser but Poorer

Joey Fox Prevented Him From Getting Boxing Bouts While in London.

KNOCKED OUT CUBAN FOE

When Harry Went to Collect $1000 Neither Promoter Nor Money Was There.

By Joseph F. Holland.

Harry Kabakoff, who made $25,000 out of boxing in St. Louis before he was 21 years old, returned home several days ago from a European tour, a considerably broadened but nevertheless slightly flattened young man.

The net result of the world tour was a fair-sized curtailment of his bank account and a conclusion that boxing is on the wane. Particularly in this case of St. Louis, the young pugilist believes, but it is a condition that he is becoming reconciled to. Kabakoff, who was born in Russia, came here at an early age and developed into a capable boxer in his teens. He met champions and near-champions several times and on numerous occasions gave great promise of eventually reaching the peak.

Six months ago the decline of boxing here sent Harry into new fields. He went to London, scoured the centers of pugilism and received some promises, but none materialized. He declares that Joey Fox, whom he twice boxed in St. Louis, gave him a figurative "black eye" with English promoters. Harry says that Joey spread the impression over there that "ham" and Kabakoff were synonymous. At any rate Harry moved on to Paris.

A Cold Trail. That was just as poor from a revenue producing standpoint and the excess of disbursements over income was something "scandalous," he says.

Harry crossed the ocean and passed to look around in Havana. Finally he was signed for a bout there with an Argentine boxer and went to resolve for his effort. Harry knocked out his man, so he says, and appeared at the treasurer's office for his $1000. Both the money and the treasurer were gone. Harry consulted a lawyer and left the matter in his hands.

The situation in New York was slightly better, but Madison Square Garden is the only place that pays, Kabakoff says. He vainly attempted to get a bout there and failed. So he came home.

Kabakoff is very dubious about the future of boxing in St. Louis and is preparing to enter business.

WEBSTER PLAYS WELLSTON IN FEATURE BATTLE IN COUNTY BASKET LEAGUE

The St. Louis County High School basketball league race will be re-matched tonight, with the Webster Groves and Wellston fives clashing in the feature game on the Wellston court.

By virtue of a victory over Kirkwood, Wellston loomed up as a strong contender for the championship. With three of the regulars on the hospital list, the Webster quintet will be greatly handicapped. Coach Roberts has been using his second-string men in practice. Chester Green, Bill Lacy and Tom Welschlag are the all members. All will start in the game. "Jaggy" Seane and "Squint" Gaines, two of last year's letter men, will get into action. Payne and Stewart are sure to start and the work of this pair has been the spark of the Webster attack.

HEISMAN SELECTED TO COACH W. J. ELEVEN

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 5.—John W. Heisman, former University of Pennsylvania and Georgia Tech football coach, has signed a three-year contract to coach the Washington and Jefferson gridiron squad. It was announced here last night by R. M. Murphy, graduate manager of athletics at W. and J. He succeeds Earl A. Neale, major league baseball star.

Red Recruit Training.

By the Associated Press. FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 5.—Chester "Boo" Fowler has left Texas Christian University for Albuquerque, N. M., where he will spend a month in the out of doors in preparation for spring training with the Cincinnati Reds. The Western air is being advised for the young fellows who need weight for the hard summer campaigns in the Northern diamonds.

Fats Donohue of the Reds, who is also a T. C. U. product, will be in Fort Worth for a few days longer as he, too, leaves for the West to train till the season opens.

Basket Tourney April 4.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The University of Chicago's fifth annual national intercollegiate basketball tournament will be held April 4, 5, 6 and 7. It was announced last night. Entries will be limited to 22 prep schools, but there will be no limitation on high school entries. The tournament last year drew teams from 16 states and was won by Lexington, Ky., with Mount Vernon, O., as the runner-up.

Coulterville Wants Games.

The Coulterville Soccer Club of Coulterville, Mo., having won 19 out of 21 games this season, is looking for more worlds to conquer. Manager Sam Ellis Jr. declares that he "has no team in the Missouri and Illinois circuit." He is anxious to book games. Ellis can be reached by mail at Coulterville, general delivery.

Guess What Will Become of This Card, Next Year

JACK FOURNIER.

Jack Fournier is the mystery man of baseball. A new report had it that Jack would manage the Wichita team. Rickey, however, said he knew nothing about it. Neither did Jack.

Then came the story that he was going to play for the Coast League in part payment for Pitcher Jackie May, who is to go to the Yanks. This could only mean that Fournier would be waived out of both leagues. But neither the Browns nor the Cards know anything about the asking of waivers on Jack.

Another report had it that Fournier was a candidate for president of the Players Union and was running strong in the balloting by mail vote.

In the meantime Jack thinks he is going to play first base for the Cardinals. Manager Rickey has not made it clear whether Fournier will be his regular first baseman, will be traded or will sit on the bench and watch. Bottomly perform.

And in the meantime Jack is selling insurance for a Missouri firm and is selling a lot of it, too.

Huston to Retain Interest in Yanks

Part Owner of New York A. L. Club Says He Is in Baseball to Stay.

By Leased Wire From New York Bureau of Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Col. Tillinghast Huston is not going to retire from baseball. Col. Jacob Ruppert is not to be the sole owner of the New York Yankees. The deal which was announced a month ago, with an indicated value of the championship club of the American League at $3,000,000, is off. The sale will not be completed.

Col. Huston made the announcement himself yesterday at the offices of the Yankees. There was a controversy on the part of the most exacting of business managers, about the policy of the club regarding the conflicting Sunday dates next summer with the Giants in the market up of the schedule. In the midst of it all Huston suddenly declared:

"I am not out of baseball. I am in and I am going to stay in."

And he probably will stay in, for Ruppert has it that he intends to buy out the interests of Col. Ruppert and become the sole owner of the club.

The breaking off of negotiations for the sale came when the lawyers of Col. Ruppert laid before Col. Huston a clause that provided that he (Huston) should not engage in the baseball business in Greater New York in the next 10 years.

The announcement that caused all the excitement, issued by the Yankee Club, follows:

"The following telegram has been sent to the president of the American League, who is to attend the schedule meeting of the two major leagues at Atlantic City:

"We think it unwise in the extreme to schedule conflicting Sunday games in New York. We request that you combat any move in this direction."

"Our position is due to the feeling that conflicting dates at grounds located so close together perhaps would have a bad effect upon the institution of Sunday baseball at this time."

DRAWINGS IN HANDBALL TOURNAMENT TODAY

Drawing for the city championship indoor handball tournament at the National Athletic Association courts will be held today. Play will open tomorrow. Many of the best players in the city, including Walter Kammann and John Stratton, champions, will compete in the tournament.

Yesterday in a series of special matches, George Sandford and Wray Brown defeated Kammann and Stratton in straight sets, 21 to 18 and 21 to 9. Sandford played in remarkable fashion and Brown, the city tennis champion, played an effective game.

A. V. Roche and Jack Seidman defeated Dr. S. M. Rich and Al Silver, 21 to 17 and 21 to 15.

Tilden Plays Today.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—William T. Tilden, national tennis star, will be given the first test at the net game since he underwent an operation in which the first joint of a finger on his service hand was amputated, when he met Sam Hardy, captain of the team that brought the Davis cup back from New Zealand in 1920, on indoor courts here this afternoon.

Kraehe Seeks St. Louis Franchise In Professional Football League

Former Washington University Star Hopes to Line Up All-America Timber and Play Schedule in National Football Association's Championship Race of 1923.

By John E. Wray, Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Ollie Kraehe, all-valley tackle while playing with the Washington University football team, promises to put St. Louis on the professional football map, next fall, with an eleven that will give football men here more to talk about than the famous St. Louis University team of Eddie Cochems.

Kraehe, who last year played tackle for the Rock Island professionals, and who put over the first professional game played in this city, Dec. 22 last, when his all-stars faced the N. F. A. teams, most of which are made up of all-America timber, had a wonderful season in 1922. The league championship last year was won by the eleven representing Canton, O., captained by Chamberlain, an all-America end who was Nebraska's great star in the days when Bill Rutherford was with the Cornhuskers. Attendances in five figures were frequent.

The recent action against professional football has rather befuddled the public, which has come to look upon "pro" football as something to be frowned upon. This is due to the propaganda spread by college faculties. These fear that students will play in the professional league under assumed names. Kraehe discussed the situation at length for the Post-Dispatch. In substance he said:

"My experience last season in the professional league really opened my eyes. This is really a post-graduate college football league and the quality of football played is amazing."

"A Battle of Titans." The picked teams all have wonderful rush lines and, believe me, it takes a man to go through those games. In the contests I have taken part in practically no gains were made by either side through the enemy line. Scoring is almost altogether through overhead play, tricks or field goals. Quarterback play has been revolutionized in this league. Plays that no orthodox college quarterback would attempt are being used in every play. The necessity of the moment and knowledge of the supreme ability of the players.

"Almost exclusively scores will be found to be low, with the goal line almost never being crossed by straight rushing. The defensive strength of these professional teams against straight rushing attack is simply astounding. The rival teams all know this and it is nothing to see a team forward pass on the first down when within the 10-yard zone. I believe that the Chicago Bears, one of the strongest of all 'pro' teams, would have been able to win the 1922 possession of the ball on the Bears' three-yard line and never lose an inch in four attacks by the Tigers. In fact, Princeton would probably be hurled back."

"I have never been able to understand either the opposition to professional football, or why the league remained out of St. Louis. Our trial against the Bo McMillin team, when we more than paid expenses on very short notice, convinced me that the city would take to it."

"College opposition has given 'pro' football a black eye, but without cause. The National Football Association does not want to have a college above board. If a college undergraduate wanted to play under an assumed name he would be refused for two reasons. The first is that we want to honor our ideals all we can. The second is that unless a

Few Professionals Hurt During Season; Saw Only One Man Leave Game Injured

One of the most amazing things, in view of the severity of the play, is the lack of injuries. Throughout my schedule of 11 games I saw only one man taken out of the game for injury. He was captain and replaced himself because of a twisted knee. He was back in the next game.

"College eleven carry many substitutes and need them. Their hospital lists are formidable. Even professional teams seldom carry more than 16 or 17 men."

"It is surprising to some how long the professional team in the field for about 12 seasons, perhaps more. Blackie, the former Michigan Aggie lineman, is playing his seventh season of football. Imagine what these men, with their long experience, mean to a college game of football. College games really seem kindergarten stuff beside these Titanic struggles."

Kraehe, Not to Be in Lineup. Kraehe will not play in the lineup of the St. Louis team. He thinks it would entail too much worry to both play and run the club's affairs. He intends to pick a team of celebrities and, in fact, has tentative promises from three all-American men. He will have two or three players from St. Louis, probably "Peggy" Leonard and "Buck" Travis. Kraehe continued:

"The football season professionally runs about parallel with the college season. Professionals require less preparation than collegians by reason of their long experience. They need conditioning and signal work. Very little scrimmage is indulged in, and during the season more whatever except during games. That is one reason for the few injuries suffered as compared to college teams, which are scrimmaged about twice a week and then play Saturday. Many injuries are suffered in practice scrimmages."

"The teams in the National Association usually schedule about 10 or more games a season, half at home, half abroad. The games abroad are played under a guarantee. The rules prohibit loading up a team in mid-season when the championship race is near an end and forfeits for rule violation make it possible to enforce this regulation."

"The league limit for one man for one season is $2000. Among the cities represented in the National Association are Dayton, Akron, Toledo and Columbus, O.; and Chicago, Rock Island, Milwaukee, Rochester, Buffalo, Evansville, Louisville, and St. Louis."

"The league is so well organized that the players are controlled by contract as are those in baseball. Clubs obtain an option on a player's services for the following year at a certain salary. If, however, another club bids above this option, the owning club must equal the raise to the player or surrender him to the higher bidder."

"The release of players otherwise bound can be obtained by outright purchase. Not many persons in St. Louis appreciate the completeness of the professional football organization or the quality of anything it is at the suggestion of other and NEWER grads, coaches or, perhaps, the undergrads."

"If university authorities think their old grad a pernicious influence, they have today, and have always had, the remedy in their own hands. And that is to remove him from the athletic field and take the sole burden of governing intercollegiate competition upon themselves."

The fine college feeling and school sympathy manifested by graduates of most institutions is such a great asset that no university can dispense with it.

Headed Right. In arranging for an annual Thanksgiving day football game with Notre Dame University, St. Louis University is at last headed right.

There is not the remotest chance that the Billikens will be admitted to the Missouri Valley Conference. The league does not desire to expand. The Billikens' logical alignment therefore is with Notre Dame, Marquette, Creighton, Holy Cross and Georgetown, all Catholic schools and all of note in the football world.

Annual games with three or more of these would give the St. Louis institution a chance to build up the tradition its football history now lacks.

WRAY COLUMN

The Sphere of Women.

ON the advice of medical authorities, the Metropolitan Athletic Association has prohibited on all programs of women's athletic meets, the running high and the running broad jumps. It has been asserted that these events are injurious to girls.

Athletics for women are now fairly booming and the caution seems to be justified. It is an advertisement for the unknown, for the eternal feminine. Men for centuries have been physically trained and their bodies have adapted themselves for hundreds of generations to all sorts of stresses and strains incident to athletic games.

Athletics for women are new. Public competition was practically unheard of 10 years ago. Only in the last four or five years have open meetings for women athletics been held.

A few generations of national athletic activity by women may see a decidedly altered female physique, if the present athletic trend is continued as intensively as it has begun.

Play or Business?

ONE of the questions that those paid to incline the mental wheels of this athletic generation are being called upon to consider is whether the physical side of college recreation is to be conducted as organized play or organized business.

At present professors and directors of athletics alike are groping. Where to draw the line in the remarkable development of certain lines of sports is a puzzle.

The very bulk of the receipts is embarrassing. Sports that can bring into the treasury of some schools more than the receipts from student editions are apt to make the school president somewhat thoughtful.

Consider, for example, that there are certain institutions in the United States today whose receipts from sports of 5000 students are perhaps $400,000; and yet the football eleven of the same institution may take in that much at the gate.

The question has already arisen as to whether it is fair to apply such funds to the educational departments of the school.

The answer is plain: No. Physical education, as will some day be admitted on its sides, should be made 50-50 with the mental training of all young men. The money received from athletic contests should be devoted to enlarging athletic facilities.

The intellectual department is already provided for financially.

The Old Grad and the New.

LET'S not be too hard on the old grad of college and varsity fame. They are blaming him for a lot of things. They are trying to saddle on the old boy all the outcropping professional taints alleged to be developing.

But, in the first place, the professional bugaboo is exaggerated. Perhaps one football player in 20 has an opportunity to join a professional team. Perhaps one of five of these accepts. After they enter and play in the open, there is nothing wrong with it, except that the player voluntarily surrenders his amateur rights.

But the college grad has nothing to do with this. He is a strong adviser against it. He is interested in the player only in so far as he can legally get a good star to represent his alma mater.

They accuse him of fudging, of creating scholarships, of finding jobs for the players and making up financial deficiencies of gridiron heroes, even of willingness to take care of players after they are through school.

As a matter of fact, when the old grad does anything it is at the suggestion of other and NEWER grads, coaches or, perhaps, the undergrads.

If university authorities think their old grad a pernicious influence, they have today, and have always had, the remedy in their own hands. And that is to remove him from the athletic field and take the sole burden of governing intercollegiate competition upon themselves.

The fine college feeling and school sympathy manifested by graduates of most institutions is such a great asset that no university can dispense with it.

Lewis, Koloff and Londo to Appear In Next Mat Show

Unknown Italian Named Giovanni Tiverio Announced as Champion's Foe.

Dan Koloff, the Bulgarian bearcat of the wrestling mat, who received his first official flop through a misunderstanding of rules, when Jimmy Londo put him down a short time ago, will be on the program of the next mat show at the Coliseum Jan. 16. Londo is also on the card, but not as an opponent of Daniel, who has been frothing at the mouth and offering to throw Londo for sweet charity's sake or $1000—anything for a chance to wipe out the stain on his sacutcheon.

Thus far, according to Promoter John Contos, both Londo and Champion Lewis refuse to listen to the Bulgarian bull's ear, so that Daniel will have to show his wares against some less notable person.

All Sidestep Koloff.

Koloff, a powerful dangerous cave man of some 215 pounds, is undoubtedly a formidable foe and none of the leaders is anxious to risk defeat at the hands of this unknown. In the jargon of the box office, Koloff is "not there as a drawing card," but is "another there as a wrestler."

Beating him would not enhance Champion Ed Lewis' reputation and not to beat him would be a terrible blow for small receipts.

Hence Daniel will have to take it out on a second rat, who has yet to be chosen. Londo will also wrestle some good man, to be chosen later.

Lewis on the Program.

Champion Lewis will also give an exhibition of how to devour an Italian ham. The athlete travels under the name of Giovanni Tiverio. Promoter Contos declares Giovanni is a near-champion, but whether at the spaghetti trough or on the mat he did not specify.

Besides these wrestling celebrities it is probable that Al Waseem and Carl Armbruster will wrestle to a finish in a match that will probably attract as much interest as the main event of that evening. Carl and Al

Waseem won the Zhyzsko-Lewis show and Waseem won. Referee Lloyd Carter made a mistake and tapped Waseem on the shoulder as winner of a fall when Armbruster had not really thrown the challenged Waseem. This match if arranged as expected, will carry considerable spectators to the arena.

Armbruster is an ambitious young pupil of Gus Eisel; Waseem is former world's lightweight champion and is now instructor at Washington University Gymnasium.

Promoter Contos had hoped to include Stanislaus Zhyzsko to meet Londo in the feature match of his January show, but the old war horse is still sore from the rough handling he received at the hands of Champion Lewis.

Zhyzsko was thrown on his shoulder and injured the deltoid muscle. Although he was compelled to appear the following night in Chicago, being under a $2000 appearance forfeit to a Chicago theater, his arm was then and still is so sore that he has not been able to take on any but easy foes. He expects it will require a month more to recover.

His injury is similar to that which George Salar of the Browns suffered last September and for which he is still being treated.

FOUR AMATEUR BOUTS RESULT IN KNOCKOUTS

100 pounds—Frankie Fleming defeated Sam Shanker, knockout, second round. Tommy McMahon defeated Paul Lang, knockout, first round.

115 pounds—Martin Fields defeated Red Linck, knockout, second round. 115 pounds—Bob Keenan defeated St. Louis Tommy Sullivan, knockout, second round. Ted Pearline defeated Gus Loeber, three rounds, judges' decision.

Seven Regulars of Stanford Football Eleven Suspended

By the Associated Press. STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Jan. 5.

THE faculty of Stanford University literally tore a hole through the Stanford football line far more impressive than any made by a gridiron opponent, when it suspended seven of the team's stars for scholarship deficiencies, according to an announcement by the university registrar yesterday.

ington U. Meets Veteran Basketball Team Tonight.

Pikers, in their first local appearance of the season tonight, at the Gymnasium, against the Concordia Five. The team is meeting an outfit that promise to be one of the strongest quita
the city.
The regulars are veterans, though the South Side Institute had no team last year, the playing in condition by playing with the Municipal League. The team was conceded the championship after defeating all teams it opposed, including the Jungeman, guard, and Clau-ding mate, are both excellent men, and are particularly on defense.
At center, is a tall, rangy man, and should have the advantage of the tip-off over his opponents. He also throws the goals.
Forward, is a probably most accurate shot on the team, fast in getting away with the basket, forward, is the only making his debut as a regular.
Concordia uniform, but he has consistently good during the several games.
Concordia also have four substitutes ready to enter game: Kietz, center; Mencke, and Heins and Zehnder, forward, are available.

Both Use Same Scheme.
Tonight's contest should prove highly interesting as both teams use practically the same style of play. Both the Pikers and the Concordians depend on speed and the short pass on offense, while the five-man defense. The Pikers are thought to have a slight edge in the matter of speed, though the Concordians are expected to have great weight.
The Pikers have been going at top speed in their practice sessions, and it is in good form. Yesterday's game against the second team ought to have many brilliant plays.
Coach Appleman was pleased with the general improvement in work noticeable.
The Pikers also have a plentiful supply of good relief material in Quinn, Well, Debold and Weiss.
The game will start at 8:30 o'clock.

WILLARD MUST DEFEAT ELIGIBLE CONTENDERS TO GET BOUT FOR TITLE

At Present, Dempsey-Willard Bout
Would Not Draw Ushers,
Writes Walsh.

By Davis J. Walsh.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Jess Willard will not get a return bout with Dempsey for the world's heavyweight championship until such time as he proves himself worthy of the distinction by disposing of one or another of the eligible contenders.

At least, not as far as Tex Rickard's more or less important dollars are concerned.

From the inside comes the tip that when Willard arrives in New York in a few days he will be duly apprised of this state of affairs. Mr. Rickard, it seems, is quite willing to accommodate Jess, but not at the expense of discommoding himself in the region of the wallet. A Dempsey-Willard bout, as it stands, would not draw ushers.

However, if the former champion can be rebuilt, as it were, by making an impressive showing in a preliminary engagement, many cash customers will come up for air. There are quite a few gentlemen in this vicinity, Rickard included, who regard Willard as being by far the best of the contenders, with the possible exception of Harry Wills. But there must be a "convincer" in other words, a bout in which Willard will push some other piano mover so harshly upon the chest that the public will clamor for more.

This program will be made known to the principal of the east as soon as he arrives. The further fact that Rickard holds the whiphand will also be impressed upon him. If Willard wishes to appear in this vicinity he will fight for Rickard or no one else, the simple reason that Rickard controls the only site on which a Willard bout can be held.

St. Louis Girl Makes Success in Opera

Marion Telva, former St. Louis girl who worked as a stenographer while trying to gain recognition for her voice, is now one of the sensations of Metropolitan Opera Company. Yielding to a request she has written her own story for the Sunday POST-DISPATCH

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH outlines the most thrilling tale of human adventure ever recorded. An American artist—Howard Carter—after 33 years of patient toil has just unearthed what probably represents the greatest find of buried treasure. So constituted is the human race that nothing so enchants the imagination as does a search for buried treasure. Pirates' gold, bandits' booty, private or public coin, plate and jewels cached in fear of robbers, military or civilian—every tale of such hidden treasure actual or fictional, thrills the hearts of men, women and children the wide world over, and this true story with photographic illustrations is sure to carry an unusual interest.

ANGUISH CONCERNING FAMILY PART OF SENTENCE, FARIS SAYS

"Men Who Violate Laws Should Think of Results to Innocent," Judge Says.

18 Deaths Laid to Poisonous Liquor. By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The eighteenth death of the new year suspected of being traceable to poisonous moonshine liquor is under investigation by the police and the coroner. The victim was William Kalb, who died yesterday.

Mental anguish of persons sentenced to jail in the United States District Court, resulting from knowledge that their families are suffering because of their incarceration, is a part of the punishment for violation of law, Federal Judge Faris said from the bench today.

His statement followed setting aside of a two months' jail sentence against Charles Slevewski of 1325 North Nineteenth street, who had pleaded guilty of selling liquor in a saloon in North St. Louis. The Court resented him to one month and eight days in the county jail at St. Charles from Nov. 24, when he was sent there, so that he may be immediately released to care for his family while his wife undergoes a major surgical operation.

"I am not going to make a habit of this sort of thing," Judge Faris said. "Men who violate laws should think of the consequences to innocent persons and I am going to make part of the punishment in these cases the mental anguish, if these people have consciences, which will attach to the suffering they bring upon the innocent ones at home."

Since Slevewski was sentenced the St. Vincent de Paul Society has been caring for his family. It was through the society that the application to set aside the sentence was brought to the attention of the Court today by former Congressman William L. Igoe.

MILLWORK COMPANY OFFICER ARRESTED; RECEIVER NAMED

Henry C. Wareham—Charged With Making False Statements to Obtain Property and Credit.

Henry C. Wareham, 33 years old, of Creve Coeur, St. Louis County, secretary treasurer of the Lumbermen's Millwork Co., 1818 Maple avenue, was arrested last evening under a warrant charging him with making false statements to obtain property and credit, following appointment of a receiver for the company at noon.

Wareham's arrest resulted from the complaint of George Dodson of 5712 Cabanne avenue, that he had loaned Wareham $2812 last September on the strength of a purported financial statement of the company alleged to have placed its liabilities at $7186 instead of $11,459. Dodson also stated that he paid $9375 for stock in the company.

Two stockholders, A. J. Hettenshaus and Lydia Peters, filed the receivership suit, naming Wareham and Richard Hadland, president, and the company, as defendants, and charging gross mismanagement and insolvency.

Frederick Schumacher was appointed receiver and took charge of the company. Neither Wareham nor Hadland could be reached for a statement today.

TWO MEN ACCUSED OF SHOOTING AT POLICEMEN

Prisoners Taken After Pistol Fight Deny Having Taken Part in the Affair.

Two men are held at Police Headquarters charged with having participated in a pistol fight with pursuing policemen which started on St. Charles street near Hotel Jefferson at 9:15 o'clock last night and ended some minutes later at Fourteenth and Morgan streets.

The prisoners gave their names as John E. Kennedy, 27, and Tom Franck, 18, of 403 Lucky street. They deny having taken any part in the affair.

Trouble began when Lloyd Pano, a taxicab driver, reported to a company starter at Hotel Jefferson that his two fares were flourishing automatic pistols in the tonneau of the cab. While the starter was calling the police the men got out and started west on St. Charles street.

After an interchange of shots a man was captured on Lucas avenue between Thirtieth and Fourteenth streets and another was taken into custody in the attic of a house at 1404 Morgan street.

WOMAN'S DEATH IN DENTAL OFFICE LAID TO HEART TROUBLE

Inquest to Be Held Over Mrs. Anna Pate, 64, Who Collapsed When in Chair.

An autopsy on the body of Mrs. Anna Pate, 64, of 2300 Albion place, who collapsed in a dental chair when receiving treatment from Dr. John Holschbach, 2331 South Grand boulevard, at 2 p. m. yesterday, disclosed that death was due to a ruptured heart superinduced by arteriosclerosis.

Dr. Holschbach told the police that he had finished an examination of Mrs. Pate's teeth and had apprised her of an abscess at the base of a tooth when she fainted. He was unable to revive her. It is presumed by the autopsy surgeon that a shock of some sort with Mrs. Pate's weakened heart caused her death. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

Motor Cycle Messenger Fined.

Joseph E. Wheaton of 1475 Hamilton avenue, a special delivery post-office messenger was today fined $10 and costs for speeding and costs for driving a motor cycle with cut-out open. He was arrested on Page avenue, between West End and Euclid avenues, yesterday morning, while delivering special delivery letters.

He explained that he was allowed 8 cents for each letter he delivered and drove fast to make as many deliveries as possible.

Mrs. McCormick's Marriage Doubtful By the Associated Press.

daughter of John D. Rockefeller Sr., to Edwin Krenn, young Swiss architect.

Chautauque employed by Chicago's society leaders and who congregated where Krenn keeps his small car, set Jan. 12 as the date for the wedding. Both Mrs. McCormick and Krenn continued to evade newspaper men.

One of the famous old taxicabs that helped to save France in the early days of the war has just been placed in the Hotel des Invalides near the historic railway coach in which Marshal Foch and representatives of the allied and the enemy commands signed the armistice. The photograph shows the solemn progress of the old taxicab at the head of a large procession through the streets of Paris on its way, under its own power, to its place among the historic relics of France, where it will stand for future generations to marvel and wonder at.

"My Impressions of American Life"

"American Girls' Figures Are Fifteen Years Old Above, and Forty Below"—American Woman Often Accentuates Her Defects.

"American Habits Follow the Movement of Life—No Long Meals—Economy of Time Has Created Excellent Laws for Health."

(Copyright, 1922, by Georgette Leblanc Maeterlinck.)
GEORGETTE LEBLANC MAETERLINCK, for nearly twenty years the companion and inspiration of Maurice Maeterlinck, the famous Belgian dramatist and philosopher, has herself won an international reputation as an actress, a singer, a writer and an artist. These articles give, in words and pictures, her impressions of American life, which she has been observing for the past two years.

WHY are American women almost always flat-chested and supplied with enormous legs?

One sees young girls who are 15 years old above and 40 below! Is it another proof of the practical sense of the race? Legs are for walking—but of what use are bosoms?

I am asked to compare Fifth Avenue and the Boulevard des Capucines in Paris. Impossible! In New York the mixture of races will always prevent harmony, perfect elegance. Fifth Avenue is amusing because it is more incongruous, but grace is in Paris on the boulevards. There is a dominating type, and it is charming—that of the "petite Parisienne." Not always pretty in reality, but always adorable in appearance, well rounded, charmingly attired, she understands her defects and hides them so well that they no longer exist!

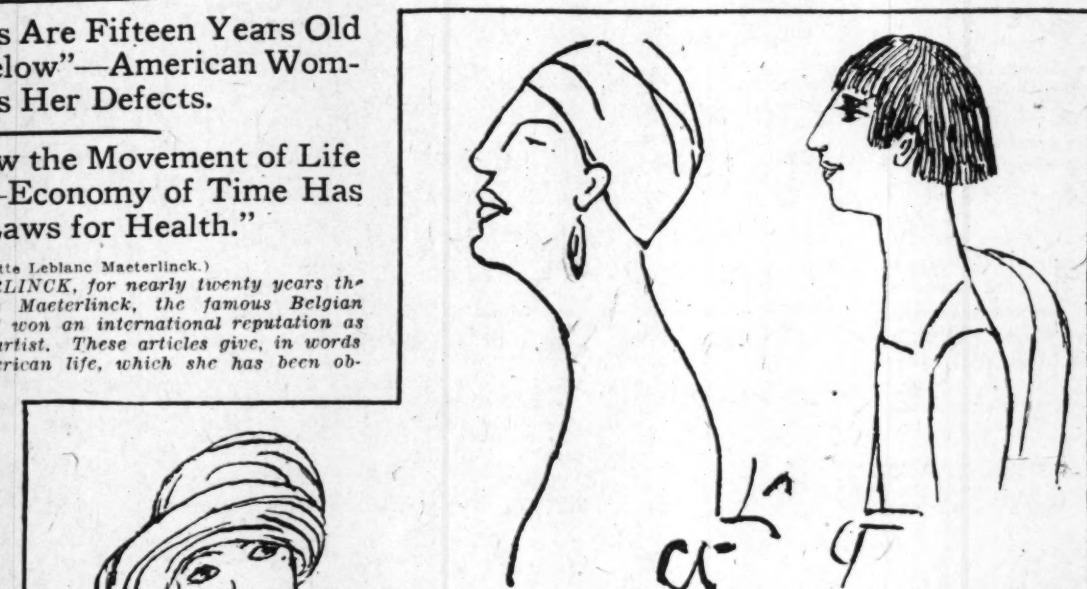

The American woman, on the contrary, often accentuates her defects. One sees fat women in white, with skirts too short for their massive legs.

In New York, conditions of life develop the courage of American women.

Every woman who is not a millionaire is obliged to do her own cooking and housework. I know admirable women, artists, who do everything for themselves—work all day and have only the evening to make their dresses, set in order their apartment, prepare their food. And when one dines with them the table is neatly set, the lights are pretty, the atmosphere conducive to conversation. The mistress of the house gets up every minute to go to the kitchen. She comes back with the dish that she has prepared, she is gracious, alive, each gesture is full of ease. She does not seem to be performing a duty but to be abandoning herself to a real pleasure.

I know another who is at once a mother, a woman of the world and a "business man." She gets up at 7 o'clock in the morning, dresses, gets breakfast and busies herself with two children. She takes them to school, then she goes to her office—she is manager of an important establishment. She lunches in five minutes and works till nearly 5 o'clock. She goes to fetch her children, returns home, prepares tea and receives, almost daily, politicians, financiers, scientists, artists, musicians in her salon.

At 7 a nurse gives the children their dinner and puts them to bed. Then their mother dresses for the evening, goes out to dinner, then to the theater, then a ball, then she sups and returns home to telephone to her husband, who has his business in another city. A few hours afterward the mechanism of her life recommences, and always this woman smiles, always she is attentive and charming and perfect!

I know Europe well. I know no life which equals this one in energy and in strength of mind and body.

American habits follow the movement of life. No long meals! Economy of time has created excellent laws for health.

A truth long spoken by European doctors may be expressed in axiomatic form: "civilized man eats too much." I have heard that repeated all my life, without seeing that it changed anybody's habits. Maeterlinck had an uncle who ate so much and who had become so big that he could not approach the table. A great wound opening had to be cut in the table in his dining room in order that he might find a place for his enormous stomach.

When I go back to Europe I shall keep my American habits. No elaborate breakfast, a simple lunch which one takes, no matter where, in a few minutes and a single repast—the evening meal! Among all my European friends I know only one person who lives according to these principles. It is my doctor!

PARIS.—Fur is just as much in vogue today as ever and each day sees some new and ingenious device for using more of it. Instead of being any longer in price as the season advances, it gets, if anything, higher. Chinchilla is by long odds the favorite of the moment.

LONDON.—The hat pin, out of fashion for these many months, is back again today. But the newer hat pin is not so useful as its ornamental. It is an enormous affair of carved ivory or carved coral, which projects from the brim at an outrageous angle and does everything but hold the hat in order.

LONDON.—Though the tailored navy serge frock retains its distinguishing simplicity of line, it nevertheless has succumbed to the fancy for gold and silver cloth. Consequently the sleeves of the tailored serge frock are very long and wide—and lined with metal cloth or brocade.

NEW YORK.—Some of the negligees of stenciled satin shown here are fairly peppered with tiny roses, and flat flowers in crepe de chine. These form little formal gardens and half wreaths, supplementing the stenciled design. A favorite trimming is a half-wreath of buds for a girle.

NEW YORK.—One of the winter brides has gone to the Metropolitan Museum for the design of her boudoir accessories. The long-handled mirror is copied exactly from that used by a Greek girl in the second century B. C., while the boudoir dressing table and chair are copied from Greek designs found in a Pompeian villa.

Fashion News Notes

PARIS.—An enormous rose, very straggly and somewhat cabbage like, is the only trimming on hats of medium size which so many women are wearing today. The hat is usually of tightly stretched satin and the rose of shiny ribbon in two tones. Marine blue and straw color is a favorite combination.

PARIS.—Very wide gold braid is used as the sole decoration on a black velvet gown worn by a popular actress in a smart "afternoon tea" drama now playing here. The braid forms the sleeves and the side panels makes the girle and is oddly turned up to cross on the bodice and end in two points at the neck.

LONDON.—There is at least something new in jewelry today. It is a string of large round beads—often in holly red but sometimes in jade or in amethyst—just long enough to circle the throat midway between the chin and the base of the neck.

LONDON.—A really beautiful cape worn at a recent evening function had a base of brown satin. Upon these were sewn narrow bands of skunk in long perpendicular rows. The cape was voluminous and reached to the wearer's ankles. The collar was of brown satin and skunk interlaid.

PARIS.—New Year brides are to wear their veils attached to a slim white ribbon bandeau set low on the head, the veil not covering the crown of the head at all. Orange blossoms do not appear near the face, according to the vogue. They are gathered in a quaint little bouquet across the back of the head.

LONDON.—A really startling evening gown seen here is of the most demure kind almost all the way round. It becomes startling back where it is high over one shoulder, very low under the other, like a shawl that has slipped half way off. In consequence of its extraordinary lines, it has long sleeve—and no other of any kind.

NEW YORK.—Have straw hats ever been really "out" this season? If so, they are decidedly "in" again today with small holiday hats of broad silk faced in straw. The hats are gay in color, as befits a supposedly snowy season, and somehow the bright straw does not seem amiss.

NEW YORK.—Some of the class-fitting hats combine the turban and tam ideas effectively. They fit snugly about the head, but they are draped with folds of satin or pique which, reminiscent of the tam drops on one side and flare high on the other. The effect is sometimes heightened by a wide bow posed on the crown.

CHAPTER XX (Continued).

"If you don't take the job, we'll have to get somebody else—at least I will. I wouldn't ask you if I didn't think you were capable."

"You're sure?"

"All right. Then I accept. I've always said you were my guardian angel. Runess. Now I know it."

"Then that's settled," said San-gree quietly.

She made a motion as though to rise, but his hand on her arm restrained her. She had noticed his abstracted air and felt in his touch a different meaning. He was clearly very much disturbed.

"There's something else that I've got to say to you, Cherry. Won't you wait a moment?"

She looked at him curiously, her face falling into sober lines. For there was a different note in his voice and his brows were bent in thought.

"Is it any trouble that you are in, David?" she asked slowly.

"No—just the difficulty of telling you. It's something that you ought to know. I just found it out this morning—it was one of the reasons why I had to see you today. But it seems difficult somehow."

"If it's anything that I can do—"

she said gently.

"No. It doesn't concern me. It's about someone else—something I heard from George Lyett."

"Oh!"

He hesitated a moment, still poking awkwardly at the gravel with his umbrella.

"Hang it all! It's hard to speak. You know, Cherry, that I wouldn't interfere—I mean, you understand, don't you, that I wouldn't speak if I didn't think that you ought to know?"

"A hundred confused thoughts passed through her mind—but she sat motionless watching him, more troubled now than he."

"Then tell me," she said quietly.

"If I ought to know."

"It's about your brother Bob."

"Bob! Oh, David—what?"

He put his words together slowly.

"You've had so much trouble," he muttered, "I hate to give you more unhappiness."

"Go on," she said calmly.

"You would know soon whether I tell you or not. Your brother has been imprudent—reckless—and has made a very bad mistake. I don't suppose there's any use in my mincing words."

"No—go on," gasped Cherry.

"Well, you know Mr. Lyett has an account with Brown & Pritchard, where Bob has a job. They found out this morning that Bob had suddenly disappeared and with his disappearance a sum of money is missing."

A sound came from Cherry's throat—a low, sobbing gasp. He had put off this revelation until the last, with the exercise she gathered speaking of other things as he had gathered courage. He did not dare to look at her and went on with difficulty.

"Five thousand dollars—George Lyett's signature—not his own!"

"Forgery! How horrible!" she managed to whisper. "Bob! I—I can't believe it!"

"I—I'm afraid you must, Cherry. David said softly. "The evidence is very definite. They found slips of paper in your brother's waste basket—with George Lyett's name on them—attempts at a perfect signature. Oh, it's all so damned silly of him!"

"What could have made him do such a thing?"

"Oh, I don't know—debts, I suppose."

"Good God! Poor father!"

"He mustn't know. There's no reason why he should. They've kept the matter quiet. I was with Mr. Lyett this afternoon. I had a talk with him. I don't think he'll prosecute. And Brown & Pritchard have agreed to wait until they hear something from me."

Cherry was now sobbing quietly.

"Don't Cherry, dear. Please don't. I think the whole thing can be arranged if we can only find Bob. Do you know where he is?"

Cherry looked up bewildered.

"No—I don't."

"Was he at home last night?"

She hesitated.

"Now that you speak of it—I don't think he was," she gasped. "I haven't seen him for almost a week."

She struggled for her composure and then straightened with an effort.

"But how can such a thing be arranged? How—can it? Oh! It's unbelievable."

"Your brother is very young," said David gently. "He has not been keeping the best of company. I'm sure the whole affair can be kept quiet—if we can only find the boy."

"But how? How can we pay back a sum like that?"

"Oh, that may be managed," said David.

Cherry turned on him.

"You—David! I won't let you do that. Never! Never!"

He did not look at her and only poked gravely with his umbrella into the gravel, but he felt her startled gaze upon him, and then the touch of her fingers on his arm.

"David! David!" was all that she could say.

She struggled hard to master her emotions and after a moment she straightened suddenly, her fingers still on David's arm, and then rose.

"I've got to be going home, David—home—at once. I'm a little bewildered still. I've got to think what to do—about father."

She spoke, still in a daze, her fingers clinging to his arm as they went across to the subway station. But with the exercise she gathered

"A LITTLE CHILD"

By WINIFRED BLACK.

VELVET and scroll-work, onyx and marble—mirrors and gilt frames—dear me, how grand the elevator was!

It looked exactly like the room I always thought of when I was a little girl curled up on a branch in the old apple tree, eating an apple, and reading out of the red fairy book.

The story about the young man who was walking in the forest and tripped over a stone and fell down a long flight of marble stairs into a perfectly wonderful room all marble and satin and velvet, where there was a beautiful princess sitting in a high gold chair, crusted with diamonds—fast asleep.

There was a perfume in the elevator that was just like the perfumes in the red fairy book—sort of exotic and delicate and wistful, like a smile you want to forget and can't.

Oh, yes, it really was quite intriguing, the whole atmosphere of that elevator! And the people in it! Some of them looked as if they had just stepped out of a revue at a smart theater, and one was precisely like the tall person you see on the cover of a fashion magazine. And one of the men wore an eye-glass and carried a little stick and his clothes were distressingly "correct."

"I've Got a Baby Brother!"

And nobody looked at anybody. Nobody spoke and nobody nodded and nobody smiled. They all just stared right straight in front of them like people in a trance—and there was something the matter with the elevator and we had to stand there together for quite a few minutes.

Finally a rather pleasant-looking lady woman smiled and then she said, "What a beautiful day!"

tiful baby you have, little girl. What's the child's name?"

And everybody looked shocked—all but the little girl in blue. She wasn't shocked at all or surprised either.

The baby was beautiful even if it was only a doll-baby, and why shouldn't people speak of it?

She lifted her blue eyes and they were as clear and cloudless as the sky on a sunny day in June—you could hear birds singing when you looked at them, and brown water running by over the stones and the rustle of little silver-lined leaves in the breeze. And way off somewhere toward the horizon—a dog barking.

All these things they made you think of, the clear blue eyes of the little girl in blue.

"For name," she said, "is Bertha Evelyn. She's 8 months old today, and I'm afraid I'll have to have her teeth attended to—they seem to be troubling her, poor little thing."

And she laid her rosy cheek lovingly to the cheek of Bertha Evelyn as if to soothe the pain of an aching tooth, then her eyes lighted with sudden joy.

"It Weren't for Children—"

"She isn't the only baby in our family," she said. "I've got a baby brother, too. A real one. He came last week, and—"

"Sh-h," said the nurse stepping in front of the little girl in blue and looking at her severely. "Sh-h."

But it was too late. We had all turned into human beings. The man with the eye-glass grinned sheepishly and looked like someone who would lend a dollar if he thought you really needed it.

The Fashion-Plate lady smiled and she had dimples—there was no disguising that.

And the woman in the farthest corner—the one with the tired eyes, and the hair of such a strange color—she smiled, too, under her veil—but there were tears in her eyes.

And then the elevator started and we all got off at different floors, and every one of us said good-by to Bertha Evelyn and her little mother.

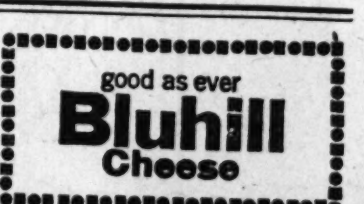

What bloodless automaton we'd all turn into if it weren't for the children, bless their hearts!

They're all that keep this gray old world from withering up and blowing away.

OUR INSTITUTIONS APPROVED.

A CANDIDATE for citizenship came to a naturalization bureau in New York to take out his first papers. The applicant was a Russian who spoke badly broken English and was apparently eager to become a voter in the shortest possible time. With him was a friend and sponsor from the East Side.

Under examination the candidate betrayed a tremendous lack of knowledge of national history and institutions and public men. Finally the examiner turned to his companion:

"Here," he said, testily, "this man's ignorance is appalling. Take him away and explain something to him about the Constitution and the Government of the United States. Don't bring him back until he is better qualified."

The East Sider led his crestfallen fellow countryman away. Within an hour they both returned.

"Hello!" said the examiner. "What brings you here again?"

"Everything is all right," stated the East Sider. "I took my friend out and read to him out of the Constitution, and he says he likes it first-rate."
